Cuevas' Quotes

Times have changed and automation has come a very long way

Activities have been brisk this week on the CSX tracks across the Bay and in Hancock County.

All types of equipment and hundreds of workers have been upgrading the tracks with new cross ties and upgrading crossing, etc.

It is not like the days I remembered as a youngster when the railroad line was the Louisville and Nashville line. There were bridge crews and section crews that worked the area on a regular basis.

There was also a rail crew, coal shute crew, depots, bridge tenders, signals crew, and a lot of folks working in Hancock County for the railroad.

Now there are only a few railroad workers on a regular basis and most of them are bridge tenders.

Times have changed and automation has come a very long way.

I still miss traveling to New Orleans on the Commuter trains. It was very convenient when the New Orleans stop was at Canal Street and the Mississippi river.

I too, still miss the fishing from the old wooden Bay St. Louis railroad bridge across the Bay of St. Louis.

There were times when there would be several dozen folks catching speckled trout, sheephead, flounders, white trout, croakers, crabs, etc. off the bridge.

I think it is great that the Hancock County School Board has agreed to name the Hawk stadium in honor of Brett Favre.

Brett for sure has placed Hancock County on the map in football circles across the nation.

On the local level when Brett was playing at Hancock North Central, I covered many of the games he quarterbacked. There sure is a big difference in the current Hawk stadium in comparison with the old Hancock North Central facilities.

Brett deserves all the recognition and even more than he receives, as he has placed Kiln on the map for folks all across the country.

I am sure there will be a very large crowd for the rededication of the Hawk stadium for the big event.

I still miss traveling to New Orleans on the Commuter trains. It was very convenient when the New Orleans stop was at Canal Street and the Mississippi river.

Healthy Act will protect forests

Recently passed by the Senate thanks to the strong leadership of Senator Thad Cochran and supported by President Bush, the Healthy Forest Restoration Act will be a major benefit in states like Mississippi where forests cover 60 percent of our state, account for 10 percent of all jobs and consistently compete with poultry as the state's number one agricultural product.

This act will use sensible measures to ensure that wildfires like those which scorched California last year will not harm Mississippi's wildlife or human life.

Virtually every Mississippi county outside the Delta has an economy directly linked to our forests. Jobs throughout the career spectrum are impacted by our state's forest product industries. As estimated 129,443 of Mississippi's full or part-time jobs are rooted in our forests. In addition to wood products derived from forests, much of our state's natural beauty along with its sporting and tourism industries depend on healthy forests.

Many Mississippians have personally invested in timber, planting trees on family farmland, turning fields that were once vulnerable to erosion and overuse into healthy forests which preserve and enhance soil as well as support wildlife.

The Healthy Forest Restoration Act is about preserving Mississippi's economy and way of life through sound, real-world forest management that will sustain and preserve our vital forest resources.

For generations we've known that to best protect lives and property from wild fires and grow our forests, we sometimes have to use fire, itself, or the saw - employing controlled burns or responsible logging to eliminate overgrowth that can fuel destructive wildfires. When we fail to use common sense, well-established forest management practices like controlled burning and thinning, trouble begins.

There are a few people among us who oppose virtually all forest thinning. They argue floods, wildfires and other natural disasters are nature's way of purging itself from man's unnatural influence, and they follow the special interest talking points word-for-word until a fire or a flood threatens their own.

In California, environmental special interests supplanted good forest management, stopping much-needed forest management and thinning initiatives. This resulted in an overgrown and highly flammable undergrowth mix that, when ignited, burned with uncontrollable fury destroying wildlife, air quality and human life, too.

In 2002 more than 88,000 wildfires burned roughly seven million acres across the nation, causing the

Politicians taxing our patience

Recently I read an article appearing in the printed media about local public officials calling on the state legislature to pass a statute permitting individual entities to impose a special sales tax on the local people.

The purpose of this special tax would be to finance the cost of a specific capital improvement project and/or, as I understand, to retire old existing indebtedness. Currently a portion of our property taxes that we pay is used to retire this type of indebtedness.

According to the article there is no guarantee that this portion would be repealed and our property tax will be lowered as a result. I can guarantee you that this portion would not be repealed.

It would probably be used to create additional indebtedness, which in the future we would be called on to retire by using the infamous "Mississippi Optional Sales Tax."

This proposal is currently before the legislature in the form of House Bill 856. The passage of this bill by both the House and Senate and a promise from Governor Barbour not to veto it would allow local entities to set elections to let the electorate decide whether or not they want to allow the entities to impose a n-o-t-h-e-r tax on themselves.

It is difficult to understand how entities find themselves in this position. One can always look back to prior years to get a solid, educated projection as to what the revenue will be for the next budget year.

This projection allows for the proper allocation of expenses to prevent spending more revenue than is available; that is what a responsible and sound budgeting process is.

Why can't one make do with what is available without having to impose further revenue burdens on the overtaxed public?

We elect public officials to act as our guardians to be good stewards of the people's monies, in whatever form or source, in a responsible way. A good steward receives not what belongs to him/her but that which belongs to someone else and applies same in such a manner which serves the best interests and well being of everyone.

Therefore, does it not seem reasonable to think that through their legislative actions the members of the legislature would be acting as enablers by aiding and abetting and, yes, even promoting possible fiscal financial irresponsibility?

It seems to me that the legislature would be acting in the best interest of the people by denying entities this form of an easy bail-out to cover possible past and present irresponsible fiscal restraint and spending practices. Perhaps the legislature should consider these measures as an action taken only to allow entities to impose this special tax to prevent the entity from becoming insolvent.

Nowadays it is certainly a rare occasion in which an entity is found able to remove its indebted financial life support and still be able to function and survive outside of imposing further excessive financial burdens on the people.

Call this a reflection of frustration, true concern, wishful thinking, senility or any other description one might imagine, in any case it is my perspective.

Idea for better labor pool passes full House of Representatives

BY SPEAKER PRO TEMPORE J.P.
COMPRETTE AND REPS.
DIRK DEDEAUX AND
UPSHAW

Consolidation of Mississippi's workforce training efforts under the two-year college system — an idea pushed for years as a way to create a better labor pool for state business and industry — passed the full House of Representatives this week.

The major thrust of HB 973 is to create a one-stop employment and training delivery system to better prepare state residents for the jobs of the future. It also would move the Employment Security Commission — the state-run "employment service" — to the executive branch and would create the Department of Employment Security under the governor's office. The plan would also create measurable savings in the administrative costs of workforce training. An accountability report, would be made each Dec. 31 to the Legislature covering a wide range of workforce training activities.

The bill was among more than 100 measures passing the full House this week during the 11th week of the 2004 legislative session. We were under a March 18 deadline to complete original floor action on proposed bills and constitutional amendments that originated in our chamber.

Health-care matters were another major focus during the week. For example, we passed HB 850 to help senior citizens get better access to drug manufacturers' discount programs, and HB 831 would create a legislative study group to analyze the state's certificate of need system for deciding whether new health-care facilities should be established. The 10-person study panel will meet this upcoming summer and make a detailed report and recommendation to the 2005 Legislature.

Considering that Mississippi is among the national leaders in heart attack and stroke deaths, we passed HB 1094 to direct the State Department of Health to create a statewide heart attack and stroke acute care system to reduce death and disability resulting from these diseases. HB 1644 directs the state agency to conduct periodic workshops in areas where high instances of contagious and/or infectious diseases occur. HB 1454 would help rural hospitals buy cooperatively to save money.

We also passed HB 1434 to make some adjustments in the Medicaid program that serves about one-fourth of all Mississippi residents. Tweaking includes moving some of the program's eligibility determination to the Division of Medicaid from the Department of Human Services. Various cost-savings measures in the bill would save the state an estimated $51 million annually.

The bill was amended to allow the state to buy drugs used by recipients from Canadian suppliers, even though federal government approval is highly unlikely, it was said during debate.

We approved five bills related to abortion procedures. HB 1289 would revise murder laws to include the deliberate killing of an unborn child. HB 1525 requires a doctor to report to the state when treating injuries that resulted from an abortion procedure. HB 1625 gives physicians the right not to participate in any health-care service that violates his or her conscience. It also gives immunity from liability for declining to participate in such a service and it also makes it unlawful to discriminate against healthcare provider who declines to participate. HB 1612 makes it unlawful for any physician performing an abortion that results in the delivery of a living child to intentionally allow or cause the child to die.

HB 1038 reduces from 16 to 13 weeks the minimum age of a fetus for which an abortion can be performed. Another highlight was passage of HB 1269 to create the Mississippi Holocaust Commission, which possibly could lead to a Holocaust museum in the state.

Gilbert Metz of Jackson, a Holocaust survivor whose family was killed by the Nazis at the Auschwitz death camp, was in the House gallery when the bill was presented and thanked the House of Representatives for its action.

To summarize some of the other action in the House this week:

- HB 1634 would help the state develop offshore drilling for natural gas that is believed to be present in a large volume in the waters of the Mississippi Sound. Alabama and Louisiana have reaped billions in revenues from such activity, but Mississippi has not made strides in the offshore drilling industry. Proponents believe the state could reap more than $400 million in royalties and severance taxes over a 20-year period, with much of the revenues going into a public education trust fund.

- HB 1368 uses interest from monies gained from state parks timber sales to make improvements to property operated by the Commission on Wildlife, Fisheries and Parks.

- HB 664 extends the law allowing the formation of public charter schools. We have only one, located in Cleveland, and it is a Level 5 (top grade) school.

- HB 1340 requires convicted sex offenders to inform volunteer organizations they work for that they had such a conviction on their record.

- A bill that failed was HB 309 to allow law enforcement officers to use computerized voice stress analyzers in criminal investigations, as an alternative to polygraph (lie detectors) examinations.

- As State Representatives, we welcome your views on issues that may come before the House of Representatives. We can be reached at 601-359-3770.

- HB 287 was amended to award the Mississippi Medal of Valor to members of the Mississippi National Guard who die on active duty. Seven National Guard members have died in the war in Iraq.

- HB 1436 authorizes the seventh round of the Rural Fire Truck Program allowing counties, on behalf of local fire prevention units, to apply for state grants to help purchase fire trucks.

- HB 1520 adds five years to a sentence for using a firearm while committing any felony.

- HB 1298 creates the criminal offense of knowingly exposing another person to a sexually transmitted disease such as HIV, with a sentence up to 10 years and a fine up to $10,000.

- HB 1368 uses interest from monies gained from state parks timber sales to make improvements to property operated by the Commission on Wildlife, Fisheries and Parks.

- HB 664 extends the law allowing the formation of public charter schools. We have only one, located in Cleveland, and it is a Level 5 (top grade) school.

- HB 1340 requires convicted sex offenders to inform volunteer organizations they work for that they had such a conviction on their record.

- A bill that failed was HB 309 to allow law enforcement officers to use computerized voice stress analyzers in criminal investigations, as an alternative to polygraph (lie detectors) examinations.

deaths of 23 firefighters. In 2003, almost 60,000 wildfires burned 3.8 million acres, causing the deaths of 28 firefighters. Of the nearly 7,000 structures that were burned, almost 5,000 were in California.

Thankfully, because our lives are still so tied to the forest, most Mississippians understand the need for best management practices, and we've been able to avoid disasters.

Yet, that doesn't preclude the need to be vigilant and continue to solidify our common sense forest management practices.

The Healthy Forest Restoration Act will not only support continued sound management practices by reducing dangerous undergrowth, it additionally seeks to increase public involvement in the forest management process, provide incentives to enhance degraded forest ecosystems on private lands, and encourage the use of biomass energy production from the dangerous undergrowth, insuring that all this material will be well used. The act further calls for the development of programs to combat insect infestations which endanger humans and forest growth.

Mississippi's forests, our economy and our state's identity are inseparable and forever linked. Our forests continue to be a respite for sportsmen, a home for wildlife and a valuable resource which has helped countless Mississippians earn a living, secure a retirement and even pay for an education. Perhaps no other state is so linked culturally and economically to our forests. The Healthy Forest Restoration Act is good stewardship, and it will help make sure Mississippi's forests continue to sustain both wildlife and human life well beyond our lifetime.

The Touchdown Club of Atlanta recently held its 66th Annual Awards Banquet at the Cobb Galleria Centre. The TCA began on September 26, 1938, when a group of young businessmen gathered together to discuss ways in which to promote the sport of football in Atlanta.

Each week during the fall the club members gather to discuss upcoming games and weekly events. They also have a special guest speaker, usually a major college coach or sports figure, that discusses their own program or trends in the sport.

Also, at the weekly meetings, the club recognizes a high school lineman, back and coach from the Atlanta metro area. At the end of the season, the club presents awards to the southeast's top offensive and defensive backs and linemen, as well as the top prep players in the metro Atlanta area. They also honor the nation's top high school back and lineman with their Bobby Dodd Awards and the top coaches around the state of Georgia.

In addition to the high school awards, the TCA also presents awards to the Coach of the Year in the Southeastern Conference and the Atlantic Coast Conference. The George Gardner Award is presented to a deserving collegiate official at the banquet dinner.

This year, former St. Stanislaus Rock-a-chaw and current LSU Tiger offensive lineman Stephen Peterman was presented the Shug Jordan Award which is symbolic of the top offensive lineman in the southeast.

Also, Ole Miss quarterback Eli Manning claimed the Wally Butts Award which is presented annually to the top offensive back in the southeast.

The Shug Jordan Memorial Award is named for the famed Auburn head football coach Ralph "Shug" Jordan. Jordan returned to his alma mater in 1951 to lead the Auburn Tigers. He coached the Tigers for 24 years and ended with a record of 172-77-5. He took 12 of his teams to bowl games.

Peterman is a 2000 graduate of St. Stanislaus and the son of Fred and Pearl Peterman of Waveland. While in high school, Peterman was rated the #1 tight end prospect in Mississippi and earned first-team All-State status his senior year. He was also named to the Prepstar Dream Team and played basketball and track for the Rocks.

At LSU, Peterman changed positions twice before settling down on the offensive line. In 2002, he earned First-Team All-SEC from the AP, Coaches, and The Sporting News. In 2003, he helped lead LSU to the BCS National Championship as a key member of the offensive line. He earned First-Team All-America honors from SI.com, ESPN.com, and The Sporting News. Peterman was named to the First-Team All-SEC list by the AP and Collegefootballnews.com.

and earned Second-Team All-SEC status from the Coaches.

Peterman commented, "This is a very nice honor to receive such a prestigious award. It was an awesome experience in Atlanta with all the other great college and high school football players that the Touchdown Club of Atlanta honored. The TCA showed us all tremendous hospitality. I cannot say enough good things about my experience in Atlanta or about the people that I met there."

Peterman had just recently returned from the NFL Combine when he traveled to Atlanta for the awards banquet. He stated, "The combine was a very hard 3-4 days. During that time, I visited with every NFL team and received a tremendous amount of positive feedback. However, while I did receive some good news, I know that there is plenty of work for me to do to get ready for the next step. I am back in Baton Rouge and working hard every day."

The last LSU player honored by the TCA was defensive lineman Ramsay Dardar in 1982.

Peterman is expected to be drafted in the mid to late third round of the NFL Draft in April. He will also travel with the LSU Tigers to Washington, DC, to meet with President George Bush to celebrate their national collegiate football championship.

The Wally Butts Award is named for the famed head football coach and athletic director at the University of Georgia for 21 years. Butts ended his coaching career with a record of 140-86-9 and won the 1942 National Championship. Prior to coming to Georgia, Butts spent 10 years in the prep coaching ranks where he lost just 10 games.

Eli Manning, the record-setting quarterback for the Ole Miss Rebels, was chosen as the recipient of the Wally Butts Award which symbolizes the southeast's top offensive player.

Manning is the son of the most famous Rebel gridiron great, Archie Manning, and his wife, Olivia. He attended Isidore Newman High School in New Orleans. He was named a Parade All-American and was the USA Today Player of the Year for Louisiana. Manning earned four letters in football and basketball and two letters in baseball while at Newman.

At Ole Miss, Manning became a folk hero almost overnight.

He set or tied 47 single-game, season and career records. Manning holds Ole Miss' career passing yards mark of 10,119 yards and TD passes with 81. He also has the lowest percentage of interceptions thrown at Ole Miss with 2.57% and a career passing efficiency rating of 137.7.

In 2001, he was named an Honorable-Mention All-American selection. In 2002, Manning was a Davey O'Brien Award semi-finalist, Second-Team All-SEC by the AP, and chosen for the American Football Coaches Good Works Team.

In 2003, Manning finished third in the Heisman Trophy and was a finalist for the Davey O'Brien Award.

He was a Player of the Year finalist for the Walter Camp Foundation and voted an All-American. Manning was the recipient of the Maxwell Award presented to the nation's top collegiate player and the Johnny Unitas Golden Arm Award for the nation's top senior quarterback.

Also in 2003, he was a finalist for the Draddy Trophy which is given annually to the nation's top scholar-athlete and was presented a post-graduate scholarship by the National Football Foundation and College Hall of Fame for his accomplishments in the classroom.

The last Ole Miss player to be honored by the TCA was Archie Manning in 1969 when he was named the Most Outstanding Back in the Southeast.

Eli Manning is expected to be the top draft pick in the NFL Draft held in April.

MGCCC selects Steven Campbell as head coach

A new era of football at Mississippi Gulf Coast Community College is beginning with the selection of Steven Campbell as head coach. The college's Board of Trustees approved Campbell for the position at its March 17 meeting at the Perkinston Campus.

Campbell is returning to the head-coaching ranks after competing one season as Mississippi State's offensive line coach. He brings more than 14 years of college coaching experience from across the South to Gulf Coast and a resume that includes two national championships as both a coach and player.

"I am eager to go to a place that is excited about its football program. Gulf Coast has a great reputation and winning tradition, back to the Sekul era. My goal is to get Gulf Coast back where it belongs, which is competing for championships," Campbell said.

As a head coach, Campbell has earned the reputation as a winner. He holds the highest winning percentage in Delta State University's history, compiling a 27-8 record over three seasons. In 2000, Campbell led DSU to the NCAA Division II National Championship and was named Coach of the Year by three different organizations.

Dr. Willis Lott, Gulf Coast president, said, "We know we are moving in the right direction. Steve Campbell is a quality person and a proven coach who has successfully rebuilt programs. He is excited about coming to Gulf Coast, and we are eager for him to begin his work here."

Campbell will immediately assume the responsibilities of head football coach. He plans to meet the team on Wednesday afternoon following a news conference. On the following day, he and the current staff will meet to assess the team's status.

"One of our first priorities will be to evaluate the student athletes on campus and see where we are depth- and position-wise. We'll need to put in an offense that is conducive to the talent that we have, and we'll need to recruit to complement the roster already in place," Campbell said.

Campbell follows Bill Lee, who resigned as head coach on Feb. 27 after two years and a 6-12 record. In February, Lee signed 13 local players to scholarships for next season. The Bulldog football team hasn't made the state playoffs since

Chris Calcote, Gulf Coast athletic director, says, "Coach Campbell is a good fit for Gulf Coast. He has national recognition, along with junior college experience, and he also has good recruiting contacts."

Campbell also has an earned reputation as a coach who knows how to light up the score board. His offense at DSU averaged 42 points in four playoff games and broke 21 school offense records. Campbell's no huddle offense also shattered 12 Gulf South Conference Records and six NCAA Division II records. At Middle Tennessee, Campbell's offense produced a 1,000-yard rusher and scored more than 20 points against three SEC teams.

Campbell learned how to keep an offense moving as a college center, starting in 43 straight games at Southeastern Louisiana University and Troy State University. In 1987, with Campbell under center, Troy State won the NCAA Division II National Championship.

Along with stressing the fundamentals on the field, Campbell will also stress the fundamentals of the classroom, and he has the resume to back up his resolve. As a player he was named Academic All Conference three times and graduated Cum Laude from Troy State with a bachelor's degree in Economics. He also earned a Master's in Business Administration from Auburn University.

A panhandle Florida native, Campbell has moved across the South for his coaching career. He says this move also has an extra benefit for his family, which includes wife Shellie, and their children, Kelsie and Steven Jr.

Diamondhead's Tennis World will host Women's National Senior Clay Court Tennis Championships

THE SEA COAST ECHO
For the eighth consecutive year, Diamondhead's Tennis World has been named the site of the Women's National Senior Clay Court Tennis Championships.

This is announced by the United States Tennis Association. Play will get underway on Monday, March 29 and continue through Saturday, April 3, according to Steve Garman, Diamondhead's Tennis Professional and Tournament Referee.

The event will feature play in the Women's 60, 70, 80, and 90-year events.

Last year, nearly 85 players from throughout the United States and even some European countries participated in the tournament, Garman said.

Many champions from last year's tournament are expected to be on hand to defend their respective titles. Among them are, Heidi Orth, Ettingen, Germany, 60's defending singles titleholder; Cathy Anderson and Sinclair Bill, California, 60's doubles winners; Mary Boswell, Damascus, Maryland, 70's singles; and with Boswell's partner Louis Russe, Boca Raton, Florida, 70's doubles winners. Betty Eisenstein, Washington, D.C., 80's singles champion, and Betty Cookson, Hillsborough, California and Jean Selvig, Naples, Florida, 80's doubles winners.

Garman added, that this year's tournament would also feature, for the first time, play in the ladies 90-year event.

The event is open to the public at no charge. Diamondhead's courts are located at the end of Noma Drive in Diamondhead.

Betty Miller of Pass Christian will serve as chairman of the 2004 event.

Marianne Garman is director, while committee members are John McConnon, Charles Bell, Brenda Hendrickson, and Patty Hourin, all of Diamondhead.

Little League Softball tryouts

Hancock County Little League Girls Fastpitch Softball at Lakeshore Field will hold tryouts on Saturday, March 27 at the following times: 5-8 year olds at 10:00 a.m., 9-12 year olds at 12:00 noon, 13-16 year olds and 17-18 year olds at 2:00 p.m.

Any girl age 5 through 18 who resides in Hancock County is eligible to play and can call Herb at 467-1294 or Frank at 467-4220 for details, or register at the tryouts.

Registration is $25.00 and raffle tickets are available to sell which can be used for the fee. The league is a total volunteer program and continually seeks volunteers who are interested in rewarding participation in a worthy community program.

If you have some free time and would like to volunteer to support the youth of our community, please contact Walter at 467-6598 for more details.

Drugs -- Operation: Go Get 'Em

my priority goals and drug dealers can expect the sheriff's department to continue to make roundups. We do not want drug dealers in Hancock County, period," Garber said.

On Friday morning officers were armed with 27 warrants, and served 13, taking the suspects to the Hancock County Criminal Justice Facility for booking.

The suspects ranged in age from their teens to their sixties.

The bonds ranged from $10,000 to $75,000.

One of those arrested was a 16-year-old, who was charged with one count sale of controlled substance.

More arrests are planned, according to Narcotics Director Major Karl.

"A lot of these people who are selling pills are injured," Karl said. "They can't work, so what they do is start selling their own medication."

Others, he said, are addicts themselves and begin selling narcotics in order to finance their own habits.

Karl characterized the Narcotics Division's efforts as a war on drugs.

"We're gonna win this thing in Hancock County. We're not going to completely shut it down - that's not possible - but we're going to get 'er done. ... That's the way we look at it. We get 'er done, whatever we have to do."

Karl listed the following as being arrested on Friday morning:

- John White, 20, 639 St. Anthony St., Waveland, possession of controlled substance with intent to deliver, no bond.

- Nick Ferguson, 24, 5189 Clermont Blvd., Bay St. Louis, possession of controlled substance with intent to deliver, bond $10,000.

- Jerry Anderson, 19, 5189 Apt. A, Fourth St., Bay

St. Louis, possession of paraphernalia and other, bond $2,000.

- David Alphonso, 42, 5131 Pleasure St., Bay St. Louis, sale of controlled substance, bond $20,000.

- Juvenile, 16, sale of controlled substance, bond $20,000.

- Jennifer Hansen, 19, 5131 Pleasure St., Bay St. Louis, sale of controlled substance, bond $20,000.

- Harold Barr, 48, 8035 Calhoun, Bay St. Louis, sale of controlled substance, bond $20,000.

- Partice George, 62, 9124 Harbor Drive, Bay St. Louis, sale of controlled substance, 3 counts, and transfer controlled substance, one count, bond $75,000.

- Deborah Radugge, 45, 8045 Panola St., Bay St. Louis, sale controlled substance, two counts, bond $40,000.

- Danny McRight, 36, 2380 Rocky Hill Road, sale of controlled substance, $20,000.

- Gina Lassabe, 44, 7020 Kiln/Picayune, Kiln, sale controlled substance, $20,000.

- Bruce Lacoste, 44, 16211 Sam Favre Road, Kiln, sale controlled substance, bond $20,000.

- Mark Rush, 22, 10070 Bancroft, Bay St. Louis, sale controlled substance, bond $20,000.

Sheriff Garber said he urges all residents to report any type of possible drug activities in their neighborhoods.

"We've got to have that help," Karl said. "We've got to have that information when we go to work."

"The information will be kept in strict confidence," Garber said, adding, "We do not want drug dealers in our county."

Residents can call the Narcotics Division at 228-467-1496, or the sheriff's office at 228-467-5101, or 601-798-8555.

Plane -- recovered at Stennis

Criminal Justice Facility in lieu of a $60,000 bond."

Louitsky reportedly had engine problems, landed at the Hancock County Airport on March 13. Apparently the engine was taken to George County to have repairs made on it. George County Sheriff's Department ran the engine number on NCIC and it came back as being stolen from New Jersey," Barnett added.

The reason for the two charges Barnett said, was because the airplane, a 1991 Buccaneer Amphibian craft which can land on water or land, was in one hanger and the engine in another at the New Jersey airport.

"I received a tip on the stolen craft (from the New Jersey State Police) and went to Stennis and found the plane without an engine near a hanger, located and arrested Louitsky," Barnett said.

New Jersey State Police are in the process of trying to locate the engine which was originally in the plane, Barnett added.

The value of the airplane was placed at $15,500 and engine at $14,000, Barnett reported.

Hancock Deputies Mary Caster and Sarah Underwood assisted in the arrest.

Neighbors -- burglar busted came out the front door with two scooters with engines."

Barnett continued, "The suspect told the trio that this was the first time, asked them to let him go and he would never do it again. The suspect went back into the house and the three neighbors summoned the sheriff's office while they circled the residence to keep the suspect in."

"Deputy Thalius Ladner arrived, ordered David Dimarco, 20, Madisonville, LA, out of the house and to the ground, where he arrested him and charged him with the alleged residential burglary," Barnett added.

While waiting for the deputies to arrive, the suspect had tried to sneak out of a side window, but was kept in by the neighbors, Barnett said.

Investigator Barnett, who is investigating the burglary, did not want to name the three neighbors, but offered praises for their alert actions.

Dimarco's bond was set at $50,000 as he was lodged at the Hancock County Criminal Justice Facility. Another suspect is being sought, as someone had reportedly left Dimarco off at the residence, Barnett added.

Hancock Deputy Sgt. Kent Malley also responded to the scene.

Fr. Hazeur will give St. Rose Lenten Retreat

Rev. Darren Hazeur, S.S.J. returns to his home parish to give the Lenten Retreat. On March 22, 23, and 24 at 7:00 PM at St. Rose de Lima Church, 301 S. Nacaise, Bay St. Louis. Fr. Hazeur will reinforce St. Rose's Lenten Theme. The theme is that Life, Death & Resurrection calls us to sacrifice by doing as well as not doing; by taking on as well as giving up; by filling ourselves up as well as emptying ourselves out. Fellowship and food will follow the Wednesday Service in the Parish Hall.

Father Darren S. Hazeur's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Honore, Sr. and Mary Hazeur. He was born in 1969 as the youngest of seven children. He graduated from Bay Catholic Elementary in 1981 and from St. Stanislaus in 1987. He graduated from Xavier University of Louisiana in 1991 with a degree in Philosophy.

He attended the University of Notre Dame Law School until 1992, then worked as a legal assistant in New Orleans until the summer of 1994.

In August 1994, he was accepted into the Josephite House of Studies in New Orleans as a candidate for priestly ordination with the St. Joseph Society of the Sacred Heart, also known as The Josephites. He received a Master of Divinity from the Dominican House of Studies in Washington, DC and was ordained a priest on May 27, 2000.

He was then assigned as the parochial vicar (associate pastor) of St. Benedict the Moor and St. Vincent De Paul Parishes in Washington, DC. In December of 2001, Fr. Hazeur began teaching at St. Augustine High School and was the parochial vicar of Corpus Christi Parish in New Orleans.

He is currently the parochial vicar of Corpus Christi and Epiphany Parishes.

Boil Water Notice for White Cypress

THE SEA COAST ECHO
Total Environmental Solution Inc. issued a (Boil Water) Notice for people who live in the White Cypress area in Hancock County. The system lost pressure due to a break in a water line. Customers are advised to boil their water until future notice.

Steve Jones spokesperson for the water system, said this precautionary action is necessary because the system lost pressure.

When a distribution loses pressure, contaminants can siphon back into the system. Public health officials, consider any system that has lost pressure contaminated until test of the water prove otherwise. As soon as pressure is restored to those customers affected, water system officials will begin collecting water samples for testing.

When pressure is restored, officials recommend that customers vigorously boil for one minute any water to be consumed. Users will be notified when test show the water is safe.

Hancock County Democratic Executive Committee

The Hancock County Democratic Executive Committee will hold its monthly business meeting on Monday, March 22 at 6:30pm.

The meeting will be held at the Bay St. Louis Public Library.

Topics will include introduction of newly elected Committee Board members, election of At-Large members, election of Officers of the Committee, and of committee chairs and members to the supporting volunteer committees.

Diamondhead Boaters Association celebrates 'Night on the Serengeti'

BY KATHY WOOD & CHIP MARZ

"A Night on the Serengeti" was the theme for the Boaters Mardi Gras Ball at the Diamondhead Country Club on February 7, 2004. Guests entered the Ballroom through a replica of a native village hut. Other decorations contributing to the mood of the evening included African masks on the walls, and the back of the stage depicted a stunning sunset over the Serengeti, with low flying clouds backlit by the setting sun. The lower front of the stage was covered with a leopard skin print fabric lit from behind to bring out the pattern. Table centerpieces were spears in a tripod configuration with hand painted masks, skirted with raffia surrounding a candle at the base.

Commodore Wood welcomed the special guests and members, and introduced Boaters' own Menton Matthews as the Master of Ceremonies. Menton recognized the King and Queen's family members, past Monarchs of Boaters, and visiting royalty from other krewes.

The court processed in to the haunting strains of African music and chants. With the Maids carrying feathered masks and the Dukes wearing silk sashes, the court represented the animal realm. Maid Maureen Holt and Duke Glenn Chauffe the panther, Maid Doris Gendusa and Duke Chuck Ingraham the zebra, Maid Vera LaCoste and Duke Harry LaCoste the leopard, Lady in Waiting Phil Gillen and

Equerry Jerry Gillen the giraffe.

Concluding the procession in grand style, King Akua Kai the XXX, Bob Valigosky and his radiant Queen, Jamie Valigosky brought the crowd to its feet as they entered the ballroom.

Queen Jamie was resplendent in a sleeveless white silk gown with spaghetti straps and a silk net overlay, all adorned with bugle beads and seed pearls arranged in a flower motif. Her tunic had a fringe of looped bugle beads that overhung the sheer net also encrusted with bugle beads and seed pearls in the flower motif. King Bob was striking in his white tails. Gold and silver collars and capes complimented their outfits.

Boaters danced to stirring music and singing by Witness until the very end of the evening. Witness really knows how to keep Boaters entertained.

Big thank yous to: Ball Chairperson Betty McCabe; decorations, Shelia Pace and Bob Marshall; entertainment, Pain & Charlie Hense; invitations, Chris Marz; reservations and seating, Rochelle Buchanan; skit music, Bob Gonzales; MC, Menton Matthews, and to the too-many-to-name behind the scene volunteers.

Reinhart rules as Krewe of Teche King

The Krewe of Teche, in Franklin, LA, recently celebrated its 32nd year of history with a journey through "Winter Wonderland" under the reign of King Quercus XXXII, Danny Reinhart.

Danny Reinhart is a Diamondhead resident. He is married to Daren Reinhart, who reigned as Queen of this krewe in 2000. They have 4 children: Brad, Cady, Bret, and Cali.

Reinhart has been employed for 20 years by GE Plastics as a senior processing engineer at the Bay St. Louis, GE Plant site.

His costume was Utopia velvet and gold tissue lame, accented with large appliques, beaded fringe, gold and silver trim, blue stones, A/B rhinestones and rhinestone banding. His crown was made with the Utopia velvet and accented with gold trim and blue stones. His boots were covered in gold lame accented with gold trim and blue stones.

Bret Jacob Reinhart was one of the king's attendants. He is the 9-year-old son of Danny and Daren Reinhart. He is an honor roll student at St. Clare's in Waveland, MS. He is a member of Boy Scouts, Little League baseball, the Youth Bowling League and St. Clare Children's Choir.

Cady Marie Reinhart was one of the queen's attendants. She is the 12-year-old daughter of Danny and Daren Reinhart. She is an honor roll student at Our Lady Academy in Bay St. Louis, MS. She is a member of Girl Scouts, dancing, St. Clare Children's Choir, Jr. Youth Assembly, and OLA's cross-country team, track team, and Campus Ministry.

Reinhart was joined at the ball by his family and guests from many different states, including Mississippi, Louisiana, Indiana, Ohio, and California.

3 Doors Down concert to benefit Hope Haven, HMC, Center for Prevention of Child Abuse

THE SEA COAST ECHO
Two Hancock County organizations will benefit from a charity concert featuring multi-platinum, Grammy nominated 3 Doors Down.

The Hancock Medical Center Foundation's school clinics program and Hope Haven children's shelter are among 15 charities selected from a three-state area.

The concert will be

Friday, March 26 at 8 p.m. at the Mobile Civic Center. Tickets for the show are now on sale for $35 and $29.50 at all Ticketmaster outlets and online at www.cc.com.

In addition, drum heads signed by band members were donated to each participating charity. Hope Haven is conducting an auction by telephone (228) 467-7945 with a starting bid of $100. The Hancock Medical Center Foundation is selling $5 raffle tickets for the custom drum head and for VIP backstage passes with tickets to the concert. To purchase at the hospital, contact the Marketing office at (228) 467-8079 or (228) 467-8790. Raffle tickets will also be available at the Hancock High School and Bay High school clinics.

Additional VIP backstage passes are available for a $250 direct donation to one of the charities. Concert tickets must be purchased separately. The band is hoping to raise at least $125,000 to distribute to the organizations.

They include:

- Center for the Prevention of Child Abuse
- Gulf Coast Women's Center for Non-Violence
- Hancock Medical Center Foundation
- Hope Haven
- Our Daily Bread

Hospitals pump over $10 billion annually into state's economy

Mississippi's hospitals annually contribute more than $10 billion to the state's economy. Regional data and other findings are in The Business of Caring: The Economic Impact of Mississippi's Hospitals on the State's Economy.

The report was researched and written by Dr. Gerald A. Doeksen, Regents Professor and Extension Economist at Oklahoma State University, on behalf of the Mississippi Hospital Association (MHA). "As Mississippi leaders continue to consider the state's economic priorities and look for ways to create more jobs in our state, they should keep in mind the importance of hospitals and health care to the state economy," said Sam W. Cameron, MHA President/CEO. "This study shows that health care is much more to Mississippi than hospitals, clinics and doctors. The ripple effect of the health care sector throughout Mississippi's economy is enormous. Hospitals are not only tied to the health of our communities, but also to the health of our economy."

Using a computer program developed specifically for the health care industry, the research found that hospitals alone have:

- $10.1 billion total impact on the state economy

- Operating expenses of $4.7 billion per year
- Capital expenditures of $664 million per year (over $5.7 million per hospital)
- $4 billion in total earnings and $2.1 billion in retail sales
- 59,872 full time job equivalent employees
- Payroll of $2.3 billion per year (over $20 million per hospital)

Average hospital employee salary of $39,676 (compared to Mississippi average of $27,182)

In addition to looking at the statewide impact of hospitals, the study breaks down much of the data by regions of the state as well. A copy of The Business of Caring, along with a summary of the findings and Dr. Doeksen's Executive Summary, is available online at www.mhanet.org <<http://www.mhanet.org>> under What's New or upon request by contacting Shawn Lea at (601) 368-3237 or slea@mhanet.org.

Founded in 1931, MHA is a statewide trade organization that assists our over 100 member hospitals in effectively serving the health care needs of Mississippi through advocacy, representation, information, education and services. Additional information about MHA is available online at www.mhanet.org <<http://www.mhanet.org>>.

Governor to speak at gaming summit

Mississippi Governor Haley Barbour will provide the Day 1 keynote address during the opening day General Session at the 11th Annual Southern Gaming Summit May 5-6 at the Mississippi Coast Coliseum and Convention Center.

MGM MIRAGE Chairman and CEO J. Terrence Lanni will be the other featured keynote speaker May 5. Isle of Capri President and COO Timothy M. Hinkley will be a keynote speaker on May 6. More than 5,000 leading gaming executives from across North America are expected to attend Southern Gaming Summit 2004.

The 2004 conference, addressing the theme "Casinos and Community," will be the most dynamic in recent memory. More than 70 top-level executives from the industry's premier casino companies and slot machine manufacturers will be featured as speakers and panelists in the Conference's 16 diverse seminars.

The Southern Gaming Summit has grown to become the largest gaming expo and conference outside of Las Vegas. More than 50 percent of attendees come from outside of Mississippi - 42 states and several Canadian provinces were represented last year.

While gaming leaders from across the country appreciate Southern Gaming Summit because it is a great place to conduct business in a fun and relaxed atmosphere, local business leaders have come to appreciate the Summit's economic impact.

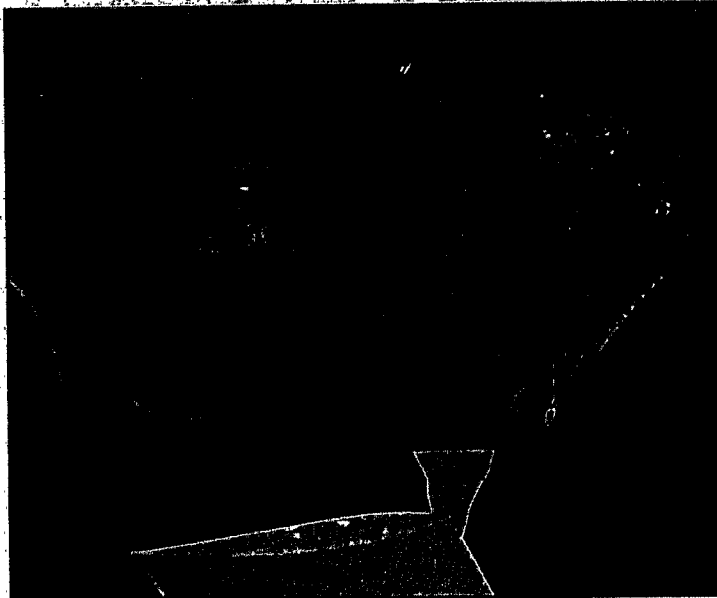

The Harrison County Development Commission reported that its staff identified at least 30 prospective new gaming suppliers for the Gulf Coast region from among the more than 200 exhibitors at the 2003 expo. These prospects include manufacturers of gaming devices, signage, beverage carts, furniture, data imaging and processing services.

Mississippi's Institutions of Higher Learning's Center for Policy Research and Analysis estimated that Southern Gaming Summit 2003 generated more than $5.7 million in organization and participant expenditures, more than $2 million in labor income, $141,235 in local sales taxes, and $440,537 in state General Fund revenue. SGS 2003 generated or sustained a total of 103 jobs in Harrison County, the analysis said.

Attendees can register online today at www.sgsummit.com. Full conference registration is $495 through the early-bird deadline of April 16. Registration includes all seminars, Opening Night Reception, Taste of the Gulf Coast Casinos Dinner, and admission to the expo. To view the list of seminar topics and speakers, visit the web site, or call 702-794-0718 x 200 to request a brochure.

The Summit is produced by Ascend Media Gaming Group, the Gulf Coast Gaming Association.

Board delays decision on USM gaming classes

BY LYNDIA EDWARDS
ASSOCIATED PRESS WRITER
JACKSON, Miss. (AP) — The University of Southern Mississippi must wait at least another month to hear whether it will be able to offer classes on managing and marketing casinos.

USM administrators asked the state College Board at its Tuesday meeting to approve the casino management courses for next fall.

College Board member Bill Crawford moved to delay the vote until the state attorney general presented a written opinion on USM's casino curriculum.

"I requested this at last month's meeting. Hasn't anything been done about getting a written opinion?" Crawford asked the other board members.

Crawford, a Mississippi Development Authority deputy director, said the opinion would shield the Board from legal liability. If the legality of USM's new gambling curriculum is challenged in court, Crawford said the Board must be protected from lawsuits. Under the Gaming Control Act, the Mississippi Gaming Commission regulates training programs that offer gaming classes. The law forbids gaming schools to locate on public property and says no public school can teach or train students to be casino employees.

But the College Board has contended that, as a constitutionally created body, decisions it makes cannot be vetoed by any state agency.

USM wants to add casino/resort management to its existing bachelor's degree programs in business administration.

USM Provost Tim Hudson said the school already faces Gulf Coast competition from Tulane University, which teaches all aspects of casino management from accounting to marketing.

"The delay means we have to wait longer to design courses in detail and hire faculty. We really need to get moving," Hudson told the board.

Jobless rate jumps

JACKSON, Miss. (AP) — Mississippi's unadjusted unemployment rate jumped to 6.3 percent in January, up 1.2 percent from December.

The Mississippi Employment Security Commission said the jobless rate was still lower than at the same time a year ago and matched the national unemployment rate. The jobless rate in January of 2003 was 7.1 percent.

MESC officials said the higher rate for January was not unexpected. They said the rise came among workers laid off from temporary Christmas season jobs and unfavorable weather that stopped farm and construction work.

The number of wholesale and retail jobs fell by 5,500; agriculture lost 6,300 jobs; and construction was down 1,800 jobs.

About 83,200 Mississippians were without work in January. There were 1.23 million employed in January, down about 19,000.

Three agricultural counties led the state in unemployment. Sharkey County had the highest rate at 24.8 percent, followed by Jefferson County at 20.2 percent and Tallahatchie County at 18.4 percent. Twenty-six counties had jobless rates in double figures.

Lamar County's unemployment rate of 2.9 percent was the lowest in the state, followed by Rankin at 3 percent and DeSoto at 3.6 percent.

MESC officials said February's figures were hard to predict. Factors such as weather and plant closures will affect the rate.

Fire Department orders new safety equipment

THE SEA COAST ECHO

After receiving an Assistance to Firefighters Program grant in the amount of $27,225 the Bay St. Louis Fire Department will shortly receive several important pieces of equipment to assist with protecting firefighters on a scene and at their station.

"We are relieved to be able to order this equipment. It was out of my reach through the normal budget process," reported Fire Chief Robert Gavagnie.

The first purchase included buying two fire scene accountability systems. One will be placed on each first line pumper.

Called a touch and track system firefighters can check in with a single touch on their ID tag.

Once in the system the automatic personnel accountability report can be activated automatically. On site supervisors will have the ability to know instantly who is on the scene by company or individual, giving the department real-time accountability.

The large backlit display makes it easy to use at night or in smoky conditions with a battery that will provide up to 50 hours of continuous operations between charges. A time-stamped record is created for all personnel movement and personal accountability reports. A chronological record of the incident can easily be transferred to a personal computer for post-incident reporting. "This is state of the art equipment that gives our small department a huge safety edge," said Chief Gavagnie.

The second piece of equipment, a carbon monoxide removal system, brings the department in compliance with NFPA 1500, OSHA, EPA and NIOSH standards for fire department apparatus floors. The system is automatically activated when the apparatus bay doors open removing all exhaust and other fumes that are existing or may be generated when trucks and equipment start.

This grant came directly from the Federal Emergency Management Agency, division of Fire Safety, to the city of Bay Saint Louis. The grant prepared by Sue Chamberlain, is administered locally by Chief Gavagnie.

EMT classes ongoing in Bay

With 85 Percent of the calls to the Bay Saint Louis Fire Department requiring some type of medical response and reorganization of personnel duties it was determined that Emergency Medical Technician skills would allow a major leap for the department from the first responder course that is required of all personnel and additionally current membership on the National Registry would be mandatory for department captains. To meet these needs the Bay's Fire Department coordinated efforts with the Pearl River Community College Workforce Development Center to have the needed classes taught on site at the Bay's fire station.

Ms. Lee Bell, PRCCWDC representative, worked with Deputy Chief Pam San Filippo to organize and begin presentation of the 140 hours of course instruction over the next three-four months. The instruction will include classroom and clinical study and ride-along with American Medical Response, the area's ambulance service, all delivered at a very modest cost to participants.

Students who successfully complete the course will receive vocational certification from PRCCWDC and be eligible for testing for the National Registry of Emergency Medical Technicians. To keep the membership current the EMT's will have to complete forty-eight hours of continuing education and a 24-hour refresher course every two years.

Bay full-time firefighters Martin Pavolini, Eddie Bourgeois, Monty Strong and Rezese Brunell, part-time firefighter, Justin Caswell and recruit Daniel Mays will participate in the class. They will be joined by representatives of the Long Beach and Diamondhead Fire Departments, Waveland Fire and Police Departments, local nursing professionals and students to make up the class of twenty students.

The following members of the local department currently have membership with the National Registry: Deputy Chief San Filippo, Captains Rodney Auguzin and Stanley Neaise and firefighters Shawn Self, Brian Ladner, Bill Russell, Rusty Shultz and Brian Sellier.

"Every call is different, requiring a different set of skills to help victims, some who have fallen and can't get up to someone injured in an accident or received some type of trauma. We want to always be prepared to deliver the highest level of service to our public," said San Filippo.

TEN YEARS AGO

March 10, 1994 - Officials hope to start pumping sand onto Hancock County's deteriorated beaches this weekend.

Dredge equipment for the $2.9 million renourishment recently arrived to the area and should begin operation this weekend, project engineer Bill Mitchell told the board Tuesday. Once the pumping begins, he said, it will proceed around the clock, drawing from an estimated 1.2 million yards of sand in a borrow area offshore.

A downtown Bay St. Louis "comfort station" for tourists is on the drawing boards. City officials hope to build the facilities on the property behind the City Hall Annex, accessed off Main Street, attracting several busloads of tourists weekly.

TWENTY YEARS AGO

March 8, 1984 - The Waveland Board of Aldermen Tuesday night agreed to seek and additional one percent sales tax to pay a more than $500,000 judgment against the city or undertake city improvements and pay attorney fees if the decision is altered in a higher court.

In addition, the aldermen voted to appeal a recent U.S. District Court of Mississippi ruling by Magistrate John R. Countiss of the Jackson Division.

The lawsuit was filed against the city by Travelers after Waveland refused to pay a 10 percent retainer fee in a $2.3 million citywide sewerage installation project. Travelers took over the project because it wrote both payment and performance bonds for the sewerage installation work involving three companies which apparently went out of business while the project was underway, the court documents indicate.

The Hancock County 2005 Junior Miss Program was held at Bay High Auditorium Saturday, March 13, at 7 p.m. The theme of this year's program was "Junior Miss Goes to Hollywood." After being judged in five preliminaries, winners were announced at the end of the program.

Saron Mitchell, the daughter of Scarlett and Sonny Jarrell, of the Caesar Community was selected as Hancock County Junior Miss 2005. Saron also won the interview and poise competition. Saron attends Picayune High School.

Ashley Ladner, daughter of Elaine Ladner and the late Vernon Ladner, of Waveland, was selected as First Alternate. Ashley also won the talent and fitness preliminaries. Ashley attends Bay High School. Chayna Cosse, a Hancock High Student, won the Scholastic Preliminary. She lives in the Deer Park Community and is the daughter of Margaret Bromwell and C.E. Cosse, Jr.

SaSha Williamson, also of Hancock High, was selected as Second Alternate. In addition, she was selected by this year's contestants to receive the Spirit of Junior Miss Award.

SaSha is the daughter of Sabrina and Robert Williamson and resides in Bay St. Louis.

Special entertainment was provided by Ashley Flynt, Junior Miss 2004, Kyle Lizana, accompanied by Ashton Burge, and Aaron and Deborah Lee. The Arabesque Dancers performed numerous numbers between preliminaries.

During the program, Sandy Garriga, the program's director, spoke about the need for additional community involvement if the program is to continue. She asked for anyone who wishes to help to please call her at 601-798-0894 or 228-493-0059.

Also, there will be a meeting on Saturday, May 1, at 10 a.m. at the Kiln Public Library to discuss the future of the Hancock County Junior Miss Program and make plans for next year.

Talkie, Talkie

One Sunday afternoon last summer I received a telephone call from a highly accented woman who wanted to know when I was going to pay my Lowe's credit card bill.

I hadn't bought anything on credit from Lowe's for two years so what she was saying couldn't be right, but I was more amazed at her call. She had a terrible accent, almost to the point of not being understandable. But, more importantly, it was Sunday.

I told her so. She wasn't very nice, insisting in her shrill singsong voice that she had a legal right to call during the day on any day of the week. Her accent was broadly Indian or Pakistani, maybe they had different laws there.

I asked her where she was calling from. She refused to say, asking again about my delinquent bill. She did have the correct credit card information so her call had to have been somehow initiated by Lowe's.

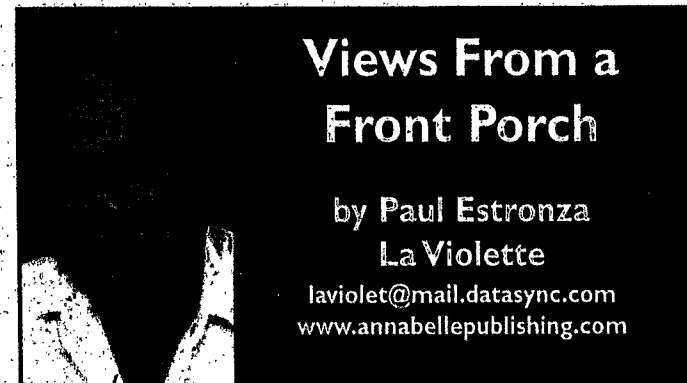

Still, as far as I was concerned, she had gone too far. I hung up on her. The next day I called up Lowe's and after playing the phone menu game and being shifted through half a dozen people each of whom had me placed on hold, I found that they had made a billing error, that I owed nothing. The last person said that he had entered a correction in the computer and that that would be reflected in my next month's billing.

No one apologized for my Sunday caller.

It was all done very mechanically and I felt somehow cheated by the lack of an apology.

Stella told me to get over it and over the intervening months I have, but it still irks me. While we were watching TV last night, Stella told me to stop gritting my teeth.

Engagements

Artie Rae Jeffrey and Louis Joseph Breaux V

Jeffrey-Breaux

Janet Beard Jeffrey of Gulfport, MS announces the engagement and forthcoming marriage of her daughter, Artie Rae Jeffrey, to Louis Joseph (Joey) Breaux V, son of Louis and Veronica Breaux of Kiln, MS.

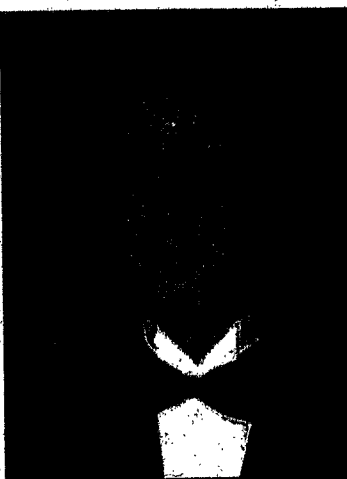

The bride-elect is a graduate of VanVleck High School, VanVleck, TX. She attended Wharton Jr. College, Wharton, TX. She is presently employed with Beans & Bagels in McComb, MS.

The prospective groom is a St. Stanislaus High School graduate and attended the University of Southern MS in Hattiesburg, MS.

He is presently employed with Fastenal Company in McComb, MS.

The wedding will take place April 4, 2004 at 2 p.m. at Dupont Employees Recreation Park in DeLisle.

Andrew Waterman

Brother Malcolm Melcher

SSC senior Waterman named STAR Student

St. Stanislaus senior Andrew Waterman, has been named a STAR (Student-Teacher Achievement Recognition) Student for the 2003-2004 school year by the Mississippi Economic Council's M.B. Swayze Educational Foundation, sponsor of the STAR program, according to Brother Ronald Hingle, SC, Principal.

Andrew Waterman will be honored during the 14th annual Education Celebration, April 23, 2004, at Mississippi College in Clinton. This prestigious event is co-sponsored by Entergy Mississippi.

Each STAR Student is asked to designate a STAR Teacher, the classroom teacher who has made the greatest contribution to the student's scholastic achievement.

Brother Malcolm Melcher was designated by Andrew Waterman as his STAR Teacher. Brother Malcolm Melcher is currently teaching at Faulkner State Community College in Mobile, Alabama. He taught Andrew in chemistry and mathematics. He was selected four times as STAR Teacher.

Andrew is the son of Mr. and Mrs. John S. Waterman of Bay St. Louis.

He is a member of the National Honor Society, the Science and Math Team, and the Varsity Quiz Bowl Team. He received first place in mathematics and computer science and was a member of the first place computer programming team at the 2003 and 2004 Mississippi Science and Math Competition. He has also been selected as a candidate for the United States Presidential Scholars Program.

STAR students are selected on the basis of academic excellence. Both ACT scores and high school class averages are compared to determine the school's STAR Student, explained Peggy Howard of Jackson, chief operating officer of the Swayze Foundation. "The STAR program encourages and promotes academic achievement among Mississippi's high school seniors," she said.

Nearly 500 STAR Students and STAR Teachers will receive recognition from Mississippi Economic Council's Swayze Foundation at the April 25th celebration. The top 20 STAR Students and their STAR Teachers will be presented scholarships or awards provided by the Kelly Gene Cook, Sr., Charitable Foundation. One of the top 20 STAR Students will be chosen as the Mississippi STAR Student for 2004 and will receive the $24,000 Cook Foundation Scholarship.

Additional local support for the STAR program is provided by Mississippi Economic Council members from communities across the state.

Saint Stanislaus College is a Catholic residency and day school for young men in grades 6-12. The school fosters character formation and integrates faith development within a curriculum which is primarily college preparatory.

The Truth About Your Money
Americans who know the truth consider the Federal Reserve Banking System the greatest scam/scandal in American history. The Fed has more power than the President and the Congress. It has never had an outside audit. Whoever (the Fed) controls the money stream, the power to make money plentiful or scarce, is master of America, politically and economically.

"Permit me to issue and control the money of a nation, and I care not who makes its laws."
(the first Rothschild)

Money is more powerful than laws or the ballot.

60th Anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. Dallas Clark Jr. celebrated their 50th wedding anniversary on March 6th. AL and Rose were honored for this occasion by their family.

Word of Faith Christian Fellowship celebrates 25th year in Bay-Wave

You're invited to join the congregation of Word of Faith Christian Fellowship on March 26, 27 and 28 as it celebrates its 25th year in the Bay-St. Louis-Waveland area.

Twenty-five years ago, local businessman Jim McDonald saw the need for a full-gospel fellowship in the Bay St. Louis - Waveland area. He visited Word of Faith Church in New Orleans, and spoke with the pastor, Charles Green, about the possibility of starting a satellite church in this area. Soon after, Green commissioned Pastor Ernie Culley to here and begin a new fellowship. Hancock County welcomed Culley, with 26 people showing up for that first Sunday morning service all those years ago.

Property was purchased on Old Spanish Trail in Bay St. Louis, and a new building was soon under construction. After nine years under Pastor Culley, Pastor Ron Skinner assumed the role of Senior Pastor. The fellowship continued to grow, and the facilities underwent expansion.

Today, Word of Faith remains a "Lighthouse for the Gulf Coast." For the past four years, Pastor Tyrone Dastugue has led Word of Faith, continuing in the good work that started twenty-five years ago.

Featured Speakers:
Friday 7:00 PM: Dr. Charles Green; Worldwide Minister, Author, Teacher

Saturday 10:30 AM: Rev. Ron Skinner; Former Pastor, Singer, Teacher

Saturday 7:00 PM: Rev. Michael Green; Pastor of Faith Church in New Orleans, Singer, Speaker

Sunday 10:30 AM: Dr. Charles Green

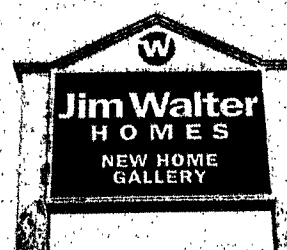

Sunday 6:00 PM: Rev. Ron Childs; Missionary to Africa

Hancock students compete in Science & Math Tournament

Ten Hancock High School students recently participated in the 30th Annual Mississippi Science and Mathematics Tournament at Mississippi College on February 5. Mississippi's brightest students representing approximately 150 public and private schools from every region of the state convened on the campus to take part in the tournament that recognizes students and their high schools for outstanding achievement in the fields of biology, chemistry, physics, mathematics, and computer science. The following were representatives of Hancock High: (standing L to R) Physics teacher Keene Golding, Thomas Donaldson - Top 20% in Computer Science, Ryan Chauvin, Thomas Laudisi - Top 20% in Mathematics, and Khue Nguyen - Top 25% in Mathematics; (seated L to R): Seth McIntosh, Micah Ladner, Kate Sullivan - Top 20% in Biology, Lacey Wahl, and Chris White - Top 20% in Physics; and (being held) James Bretnier - Top 10% in Physics and Top 2% in Mathematics.

St. Stanislaus hosts the MS Gulf Coast High School Leadership Conference

THE SEA COAST ECHO

St. Stanislaus College in Bay St. Louis, Mississippi hosted the Mississippi Gulf Coast High School Leadership Conference on Tuesday, February 10, 2004, according to Brother Ronald Hingle, SC, Principal.

Sponsored by Herf Jones in conjunction with the St. Stanislaus Activities Department, the conference was held to give students the tools and training they need to be effective leaders in their schools. Nearly two hundred participants attended from twenty schools in Mississippi and Louisiana.

The nationally known youth leadership speaker Mr. Mike Smith delivered the keynote address. A poet, author, consultant, speaker, and trainer, Mr. Smith has devoted his career to the promotion of positive attitudes and personal responsibility. He has served as a consultant to the National Association of Student Activities Directors, as well as Family Friendly Schools. Mr. Smith has trained student leaders and advisers in all fifty states and throughout Canada.

Following Mr. Smith's address, student participants explored the techniques that make individuals and teams work well together.

Through interactive sessions, student participants learned how they could become a vital asset to their teams, their clubs, and their schools. They explored their full potential in a leadership role.

Student leaders who participated in this conference brought back to their schools skills, activities, and programs to build positive school communities and to benefit themselves.

Student representatives from each of the following schools attended the day-long conference: Bay High, D'Iberville High, Gautier High, George County High, Gulfport High, Harrison Central High, Mandeville High, Mercy Cross High, Moss Point High, North Shore High, Ocean Springs High, Our Lady Academy, Pascagoula High, Picayune High, St. John High, St. Martin High, St. Stanislaus College, Slidell High, Stone High, and Vancleave High.

St. Stanislaus College is a Catholic residency and day school for young men in grades 6-12.

FORTY YEARS AGO

March 5, 1964 - Sidelines play opens, 19 teams entered. Tip-off for the coast's basketball tournament, the Sidelines Fourth Annual Independent, is scheduled for 7 p.m. in the St. Stanislaus gymnasium when Trapani's Knock-Knock clashes with Picayune YMCA. Play will continue throughout the week with finals Saturday night.

Tournament chairman Red Davis and Stanislaus athletic director Brother Dacian have garnered some of the best talent from three states, Mississippi, Louisiana and Alabama, having lined up 19 teams, 14 men and five women, composed of the best players available.

FIFTY YEARS AGO

"The Red Sox have a good this year and I sure hope they finish on top." This statement was made by Mel Parnell, the ace pitcher for the Boston Red Sox of the American League, during a visit to Waveland with George Digby, southern scout for Boston.

Another visitor was Putsey Carbellero, second baseman with the Philadelphia Phillies chain. Both of these professional baseball players are from New Orleans. Last season Parnell, posted the best pitching record in the major league with 21 wins and 9 losses.

He defeated the world champion New York Yankees six times with four shutouts.

March 12, 1954 - (Photo) Building a Snow Man - The three sons of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Cuevas of Waveland, (Raymond, Felton and Ellis) are shown as they enjoy the fact that it snowed in Bay St. Louis and surrounding towns this week.

SIXTY YEARS AGO

March 10, 1944 - First class for local delivery will be increased from 2 cents to 3 cents, however postcards will remain the same, 1 cent. Air Mail will be increased from 6 cents per ounce to 8 cents per ounce for mail within the main land of the United States including Alaska.

The rate of 6 cents additional for each half-ounce or fraction thereof continues to apply to air mail sent to or by armed forces of the United States overseas served through Army and Navy post offices.

The rates changes are effective.

had that capability built into the handset as well as the base unit.

This seemed a handy extra, something I could use when I was working in the yard and my hands were dirty.

The new phone had another extra. Since we had caller ID, it had the ability to state over the built-in speaker system the identity of whoever was calling. That was nice, a sort of lagniappe, and I happily installed the new phone in the living room.

But as it turns out that Kipling was right, east is decidedly east, and culture is not as easily exported as technology. That evening as we were watching TV, the phone rang and, as it rang, between each ring it spoke to us in a fashion we had not anticipated.

In a loud, heavily accented voice it stated, "Call from Myoh Yahni."

Stella pushed the mute button and stared at the phone hanging on the opposite wall. It rang again and again said "Call from Myoh Yahni."

The handset was nearby. I picked it up and looked at the Caller ID on the LCD readout. It read Mary Jones. I pressed the talk button and answered it. It was Mary. I spoke to her for about a minute and hung up.

Stella looked at me and asked who it was.

"Well, that was Mary on the phone, but on the speaker, I think it was that woman I talked to last summer."

AMBUSH -- A HIGHLY SUCCESSFUL METHOD!

IN THE PRACTICE OF WAR THE ANCIENT ISRAELITES LEANED HEAVILY ON VARIOUS STRATAGEMS SUCH AS SURPRISE, AMBUSH, PRETENSED RETREAT AND SUCH CIRCUMVENTIONS AS WOULD KEEP THEIR ENEMIES IN A DISTRAUGHT STATE OF HELPLESSNESS. WE LEARN IN GENESIS 14 THAT WHEN ABRAHAM WENT TO RESCUE HIS NEPHEW LOT, HE DIVIDED HIS FORCES WHICH CERTAINLY SUGGESTS AMBUSH AND SUCCESSFULLY ATTACKED AND VANQUISHED THE ENEMY. ALSO NOTED IN THE BOOK OF JOSHUA, CHAPTER 8, ARE PLANS FOR A VERY SUCCESSFUL AMBUSH BY WHICH JOSHUA AND THE ISRAELITES HOPED TO DEFEAT THE SOLDIERS OF THE CITY OF AI. JOSHUA USED A PLAN OF AMBUSH AS TO DRAW THE ENEMY'S FORCES INTO A NARROW GULCH OR RAVINE BY MAKING THEM BELIEVE THEY WERE PURSUING A SMALL NUMBER OF MEN. WHEN THE PREY WAS SUCCESSFULLY LURED INTO THE CLASH, THE MAJOR FORCE, HIDDEN UP ABOVE, WOULD THEN ATTACK -- MUCH TO THE ENEMY'S CHAGRIN!

Lent's practical and healthy hints

Ouching repeatedly into her hands, the choir member caught the eye of another member at her side. Her fellow member kept hoping against hope that the errant cougher would not want to shake her hand at the rite of peace.

It so happened that the choir member next to the cougher was always very careful about matters of hygiene, especially seeing to it that her hands were clean and that she coughed only into a handkerchief or wad of tissue.

Predictably, the cougher was among the first to spring to action at the time of the rite of peace, extending her hands with a big smile. On the contrary, her neighbor forced a half-smile and offered a very reluctant hand to her.

"What to do now?" wondered the hygiene-conscious member. As soon as she could, she slipped outside and washed her hands, figuring that she would not contribute toward contaminating herself and the whole congregation.

Need we remind everyone that touching others after coughing into one's hands is the most efficient and foremost means of spreading germs which cause colds, influenza and a host of other illnesses?

Lent, folks, is a reminder that a little bit of restraint and discipline is much more than an exercise in penance. In the case of coughing only into a tissue or hankie, discipline is an important component of ours and others' health.

Many people have other unhygienic habits such as picking their nose, rubbing it or even attempting to wipe its drippings with their fingers.

Even grosser, a few crass folks use their fingers to blow their nose.

These people, too, are often among the most eager to shake our hand and touch us.

If you find that revolting, you are right on key. As hard to believe as it is, until 1843, this unhygienic behavior once characterized the practice of all medical doctors, causing an extremely high mortality rate among babies.

In that year, lawyer/physician/researcher Oliver Wendell Holmes proved that babies delivered by midwives had a much lower mortality rate than those delivered by medical students and physicians. The culprit: unwashed hands, especially hands not cleansed with antibacterial agents.

Ignaz Semmelweis independently confirmed the same findings in Vienna in 1846, establishing that "cadaverous particles" were responsible for the greater infant death rates wherever caregivers' hands were not sanitized.

Even as we review these hard-core medical studies, we fully realize just how difficult and painstaking it is to follow

Reflections on Life

by Father Jerome LeDoux, SVD strict hygiene in the cleansing of bodies and of our hands in particular. A recent survey finds that even doctors and nurses are delinquent in this, sometimes to the tune of 75 percent.

So we know from the top down that a discipline as basic and as critically important as hygiene comes only with grinding, patient, persevering effort which relatively few people care to put forth and even fewer do in fact.

Lent's discipline is a great setting and tool for us to lay siege to all our bad habits. Rather than use the scattershot approach, which dilutes our focus, it is highly desirable to manage to eliminate just one bad habit in any given year.

Instead of the usual "giving up something for Lent," suppose we turn our entire focus on hygiene at home, on the job, in church, in public places, at picnics and the sundry venues of recreation where we do our exercises.

Because our home is personal and private, it appears that it is by far the worst scene of delinquency in hygienic practices. There, we tend to be less inhibited and more slovenly in everything, especially hand washing.

Yet, we read the unnerving statement that streptococcus, staphylococcus, E. coli, rhinovirus, Norwalk (gastroenteritis) and Coxsackie virus (Hand, Foot and Mouth disease) among others routinely contaminate our hands through the course of our daily activities.

How is that for a mouthful, and a handful too? If nothing else, perhaps that laundry list of hand-borne maladies and afflictions will be enough to motivate us to get into good hygiene habits of sanitizing our hands often.

During Lent, we tend to look to our bad eating habits and the unwelcome weight which almost invariably accompanies them. And well we do, for the excess avoirdupois also brings on diabetes, hypertension and blockages.

However, granting the crucial importance of eating and drinking properly, we should not be deceived by the microscopic nature of deadly agents so small that we cannot see or detect them with our senses. Yes, invisible germs, bacteria, bacilli and viruses are lying in wait to maim and kill us.

At first blush, this is merely a hygienic issue which must be addressed for the good of our overall health at home, on the job, in church, in and around public places, at recreation and even in the total privacy of our being alone.

But, upon further reflection, this Lenten discipline is a highly spiritual initiative in which our mental effort complements our holistic physical and religious ideals, goals, strategies and ultimate fulfillment.

Scripture Says . . .

By Ed Young

Standing there before the Great White Throne, and looking upon the king of kings, my body shook uncontrollably.

The Lord was handed the books and He found my name written there. My works and deeds were all recorded, of my life spent here on earth. Every word spoken; everything I had done good or bad.

I felt worthless, hopeless, and undone. Righteousness was no where to be found.

I looked around for a priest or minister to come forward to help me. None were there.

I mention about my good works I did for my neighbors. I spoke eagerly of my giving to missionaries, and supporting my church.

Yet, again I looked around for someone to speak up for me. Not a word was said.

Then, I remembered the Lord Jesus, He would represent me. He was no where to be found. My heart dropped. Surly the fact that I even cast out devils and prophesied in thy name, and did many wonderful things, surly the Lord will let me in His kingdom?

The Lord sounded with a mighty voice. "Not everyone that saith unto me, Lord, Lord, shall enter into the kingdom of heaven; but he that does the will of my Father who is in Heaven." Matthew 7: 21, 23

Standing there I asked the Lord, what is your will that I might enter into your kingdom?

His eyes became as of a flame of fire, His voice as loud as thunder!

You rejected my Son and all that He did for you. "I gave you my only Son to pay for your ungodly sins; you paid little or no interest in His love for you."

You turned Him down, you turned me down. Oh! Foolish man you are! Depart from me, forever. Rev. 20: 11-15

The "Word" for the Week
Blessed is he who ...

Dennis J. Prutow • Box 303, Sterling, KS 67579

Traditionally, this is a very religious time of year. More people will go to church on the next two Sundays than at any other time.

Perhaps it is because we take time to remember significant events in the life of Christ. When Jesus entered Jerusalem for the last time, riding on a colt. He was worshipped as a king. People covered the road with their coats and with palm branches. Jesus then chased the moneychangers and those selling cattle out of the temple. He said, "My house shall be a house of prayer." (Luke 19:46).

Later that same week, when they had all come in off the dusty road, Jesus washed the disciples' feet just as a hired servant. Then Jesus talked about His impending death. To help explain His death in payment for sin, Jesus instituted what we call the Lord's Supper. The bread, Jesus said, "Is My body." The cup, Jesus explained, "Is My blood of the covenant, which is to be shed on behalf of many for the forgiveness of sins" (Matthew 26:28).

Then Jesus and the disciples went out to the Garden of Gethsemane. Jesus prayed and "His sweat became like drops of blood" (Luke 22:44).

Here Judas betrayed Jesus and the temple guards took him to the home of the High Priest. All night and early into the morning, the Jews worked to concoct a case against Jesus. On that Friday they demanded that Pilate, the Roman Governor, put Jesus to death. So Jesus was nailed to a cross. While He hung there He said, "Father forgive them; for they do not know what they are doing" (Luke 23:35).

Why did Jesus suffer and die? So that you would turn back to God and be forgiven. That's why He came.

Public Notices

Diamondhead, Mississippi (The District) on March 21, 2004 made the following public notice:

SECTION 1.0. WATER RATE ORDINANCE

1.1. The water utility shall be charged levied on all users, but not limited to:
persons, firms, corporations, or governmental entities that use water from the Diamondhead Water and Sewer District, the District's water system. Every person, firm, corporation, or governmental entity using or operating water from the District shall be required to pay the District the water rate for the purpose of this regulation, less any payment or credit for water used, and shall, for the purposes of this regulation, be considered a user thereof. In accordance with Section 3.0, hereof, Property owners who become owners by means of foreclosure, election, or other legal proceeding shall be considered a user and be responsible for the full rate of debt relief.

1.2. Delinquent Accounts
1.2.1. Late notices are mailed to the customer on or about the 15th of the month. The cutoff date is to be 15 days following the date of the late notice is mailed to the customer. Termination notices are sent 10 days after the late notice are mailed. The cut-off date is 5 days after the termination notice is mailed.

1.2.2. The business office shall cut-off water by shutting off the water valve on the District side of the water meter and a secure lock affixed
to prevent opening by unauthorized persons.
Payment is defined as any and all overdue amounts owed to the District, including sewer charges, and all other charges which have been assessed to this customer by the District and includes any and all amounts listed in the District files for this customer. The District reserves the right to discontinue service on any account of a customer in the event such customer fails to pay any obligations owed to the District.

2.4. Rental Property
2.4.1. Owners of rental property shall be responsible for all sums due the District whether or not the tenant signs an application with the District, to be billed.

9.1. This amended ordinance shall be effective as of March 8, 2004.

SECTION 1.0. USER CHARGE

1.1. User charge shall be the charge levied on all users including, but not limited to, persons, firms, corporations, or governmental entities that discharge, cause or permit the discharge of sewage into the public sewage works. Property owners who become owners by means of foreclosure, election, or other legal proceeding shall be considered a user and be responsible for the full rate
of debt relief.

1.1.3. Delinquent Accounts

1.1.3.1. It shall be the District policy to work with customers to attempt a mutually agreeable payment schedule for delinquent accounts. In the event that the customer is unable or unable to make payment to the satisfaction of the District, the service will be terminated.

1.1.3.2. The steps to termination of service are as follows:
1.1.3.2.1. Payment must be received at the District Office, 4425 Park Ten Dr., Diamondhead, MS 39525 by the 15th of the month following the billing period. If payment is not received by customers on the 15th of each month or nearest work day to the 15th of the month, the account is termed to be "delinquent" as of the 16th of the same month.

1.1.3.2.2. A late fee is assessed after the 15th of the month. This amount is shown on the bill.
If the 15th falls on a weekend or holiday, the charges are assessed on the next working day.

1.1.3.2.3. Late notices are mailed to the customer on or about the 15th of the month. The cutoff date is to be 15 days following the date of the late notice is mailed to the customer. Termination
notices are sent 10 days after the late notice are mailed. The cut-off date is 5 days after the termination notice is mailed.

1.1.3.2.4. The business office shall cut-off service by shutting off the water valve on the District side of the water meter and a secure lock affixed
to prevent opening by unauthorized persons.
Payment is defined as any and all overdue
amounts owed to the District, including sewer charges, and all other charges which have been assessed to this customer by the District and includes any and all amounts listed in the District files for this customer. The District reserves the right to discontinue service on any account of a customer in the event such customer fails to pay any obligations owed to the District.

1.1.3.3. The steps to restoration of service for a customer who has had a delinquent account are as follows:
1.1.3.3.1. Customer deposit funds will be applied toward the delinquent amount due. Should the customer elect to have the service restored, the customer may, at the discretion of the General Manager of the District, be required to pay a deposit not to exceed six (6) months of minimum billing for water and sewer combined.

1.1.3.3.2. For customers who are granted a payment schedule, as agreed by mutual consent of the customer and the General Manager of the District, an interest rate not to exceed one percent (1%) per month may be charged on the customer on the unpaid balance until such time as the account is paid in full and the necessary deposits made.

2.1. Sewer Rate Schedule
2.1.1. Rental Property: Owners of rental property shall be responsible for all sums due the District whether or not the tenant signs an application with the District to be billed.

4.1. This amended ordinance shall be effective
as of March 8, 2004.

A full copy of the ordinances as of March 8, 2004 is on file in the office of the District and is available for inspection Monday-Friday from 8AM-4PM.

provisions of §41-29-153(a)(5) and §41-29-153(a)(7) of the Mississippi Code of 1972, as amended, having been used, or intended for use, in violation of the Uniform Controlled Substances Law and having been found in close proximity to forfeitable controlled substances, to wit:
Cocaine and Marijuana.TO TESTIFY TO THE above-described property which is subject to the notice under Miss.
Code Ann. §41-29-176, and wish to contest the forfeiture, you must within thirty (30) days after the receipt of this Notice or of the date of the first publication of this Notice, file a petition signed by you contesting the forfeiture and requesting judicial review in the which the seizure is made of the county (and district) in which the criminal prosecution is brought, in order to claim an interest in the property. Upon the filing of the Petition and the payment of the filing fee, the service of the pe-tion shall be made on the attorney for the seizing law enforcement agency, and the proceeding shall thereafter be governed by the Mississippi
Rules of Civil Procedure.INSTRUCTIONS FOR FILING PETITION:

Wings of Freedom tour comes to N.O.

THE SEA COAST ECHO The Collings Foundation's Wings of Freedom Tour comes to New Orleans, LA at the Lakefront Airport on display at Taylor Energy Hangar from Friday, March 26 through Monday, March 29. The display, sponsored by Taylor Energy, includes the World War II vintage Boeing B-17 Flying Fortress and Consolidated B-24 Liberator heavy bombers, and the North American B-25 Mitchell medium bomber; all accurately restored to flyable 1944 configuration. The B-24 Liberator is the only one of its kind flying in the world today.

During the display visitors will be able to tour the aircraft for a small donation and see what it was like as a crewman aboard during World War II. All positions aboard the aircraft are accurately restored with the original instruments, gun positions, and equipment. The Collings Foundation invites all veterans to come and share their experiences with the public during the display as well.

Visitors also may take the once-in-a-lifetime opportunity to fly an actual mission aboard the B-17, B-24 or B-25.

Flight experiences allow visitors to fly aboard the aircraft for the ultimate in hands-on learning. Flights in the B-17 and B-24 are 30 minutes in duration and are a tax-deductible donation of $400 per person. B-25 flight experiences are 15-minutes in duration and are $350 per person for seats in the forward fuselage, and $300 per person for flights from the rear fuselage. Interested visitors should call 978-562-9182 for reservations. Reservations are recommended.

The display will take place at Lakefront Airport at Taylor Energy Hangar from arrival at 3:00 PM through 5:00 PM on Friday, March 26; 9:00 AM through 5:00 PM on Saturday, March 27; 9:00 AM through 5:00 PM on Sunday, March 28; 9:00 AM through 12:00 PM on Monday, March 29. A press conference will be held on Friday, March 26th at 2:30 PM by our sponsor Mr. Patrick Taylor. Mr. Taylor invites the press to fly aboard the aircraft immediately following the conference.

The Foundation requests a donation of $8.00 for adults and $4.00 for children to tour through both aircraft. Any student holding a Taylor/Audubon/NOMA Students or Scholars membership will be allowed free admission during this historic event. All donations help support the maintenance and operation of the aircraft, which costs nearly $3100 per flight hour per aircraft.

The Wings of Freedom Tour visits over 120 cities nationwide over a tour season spanning 10 months. The tour was established as a living history exhibit to promote awareness of World War II history and to honor the veterans that fought for freedom during it.

The Collings Foundation is a non-profit educational foundation founded in 1979 and based in Stow, MA. It was created to promote learning and education through interactive methods using a hands-on approach. The Collings Foundation is active in operation and restoration of over 22 historic aircraft and a large collection of other historic vehicles supporting transportation technology education. Avalon, Fabian and Rydell bring 'Bandstand' to Bay Casino Magic

THE SEA COAST ECHO Fifties heartthrobs Frankie Avalon, Fabian and Bobby Rydell perform their sock-hop hits and some of the most beloved music of the bandstand era in two performances at Casino Magic Bay St. Louis May 14th and 15th at 9 p.m. Tickets are: $14.95, $19.95 and $24.95 and are available at the Casino Magic Box Office, by calling 1-800-5-MAGIC-5 and through any Ticketmaster outlet.

The Golden Boys were three of the most popular teen idols and the late 50's and early 60's and have met with overwhelming concert success while touring together off and on again since 1985.

Frankie Avalon, 63, began his show biz career by playing the trumpet and wowing the audience at various Philadelphia talent shows. By the age of 12, he was a member of a local dance band which featured another future teen idol on drums -- Bobby Rydell. In 1957, the rise of "American Bandstand" inspired Avalon to try a solo singing career. He made waves with the hits, "Venus," "Bobby Sox to Stockings," and "De De Dinah." In the 60's Avalon turned to acting starring in several films with Annette Funicello that were inspired by the nationwide surfing craze -- "Beach Party," "Muscle Beach," "Beach Blanket Bingo," and many more. Perhaps his most memorable role came in 1978's "Grease" in which he played a teen angel and sang "Beauty School Dropout."

Another Philadelphia native, Fabian Forte, 61, was discovered sitting on his front steps at the age of 14. By the time he was 18 he had recorded dozens of hit singles including: "Turn Me Loose," "Tiger" and "I'm the Man." In 1959, he made his screen debut and has since had featured roles with John Wayne, James Stewart, Jack Palance, and George Segal. Never a disappointment to his fans, Fabian is still as good looking, charming and hard working as ever.

Bobby Rydell, 62, grew up in the same south Philly neighborhood as Avalon and Fabian. He began his career playing the drums at the age of five and was working night clubs by age seven. As a teenager he played with Frankie Avalon in a local dance band and went solo after seeing Avalon's success. Rydell's hits include: "Volare," "Wild One," and "Kissin' Time." In 1963, he appeared in the screen version of the hit Broadway musical "Bye, Bye, Birdie" opposite Ann Margaret.

Today the trio find their most success in their family lives and through touring together. Baby Boomers still flock to their concerts in droves screaming, "Frankie you're the best!" and "I love you Fabian!" Don't miss your chance to see The Golden Boys live in concert at Casino Magic Bay St. Louis on May 14 and 15. Must be 21 to attend.

Celebrity Scoop

Caroline Dhavernas.

Checking in with Caroline Dhavernas

By John Crook
 © Zap2it

Caroline Dhavernas doesn't need talking stuffed animals to tell her she's having a wonderful career year.

The strikingly pretty French-Canadian actress was hand-picked over hundreds of U.S. rivals for the starring role in Fox's Friday-night "Wonderfalls." The series is a romantic comedy in which her character, Jaye Tyler, suddenly begins receiving otherworldly direction from inanimate objects.

The series has received glowing reviews but is struggling to find an audience on a night that Fox has not had much success (think "Firefly," "John Doe," "Millennium," "Freakylinks").

"We have a truly amazing cast," Dhavernas says of her co-stars, who include former Oscar nominee Diana Scarwid and William Sadler as her parents. "Jaye was a hoot to do, because she is so far away from who I am."

While Jaye, 24, still is flailing about to find her place in the world, Dhavernas began her career off-screen at age 8, dubbing TV series such as "Babar" and "Mont-Royal." Her on-camera career began at 12 in French-language Canadian TV series such as "Reseaux" and "Urgence," both of which also featured her father.

While she handles a pitch-perfect U.S. accent as Jaye, Dhavernas was raised speaking French. She landed her first major English-language lead in 1999's "Heart: The Marilyn Bell Story." However, she may be best remembered by U.S. audiences for a 2002 "Law & Order" guest appearance, in which she played a closeted lesbian cheerleader.

Of her new "Wonderfalls" celebrity, "It's not something I fear," she says. "I'm ready for some changes in my life!"

Birthdate: May 15, 1978.
Birthplace: Montreal, Quebec, Canada.
Family ties: Father is actor Sebastien Dhavernas; mother also is an actress.
Pronunciation key: Her last name is pronounced "da-VER-na."
Canadian TV series credits: "Lobby," "Le Pollock," "Tag."
Film credits: "Cap Tournante," "Running Home," "L'île de sable," "Lost and Delirious," "Out Cold," "The Baroness and the Pig," "Edge of Madness," "The Tulsa-Luper Suitcases: The Moab Story," "Nez Rouge."
Fan mail address: Caroline Dhavernas, c/o "Wonderfalls," Fox Broadcasting Company, P.O. Box 900, Beverly Hills, CA 90213.

Featured Get jump on vacation plans

By John Crook
 © Zap2it

Some parts of the nation may still be braced for a late blast of winter chill, but according to the calendar, spring officially started late last week, which means many U.S. families will be ready to plan their summer getaways.

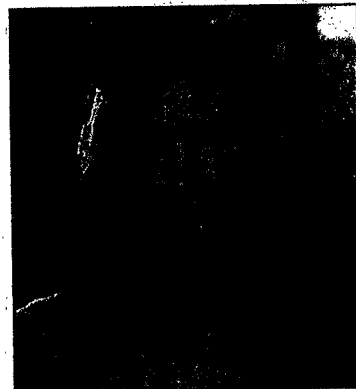

Not so coincidentally, Travel Channel has six new and informative specials lined up for its "Great American Family Vacations Week" from Sunday, March 21, through Friday, March 26.

Whether you want to put more pep in your putt or just enjoy pol on a pauper's purse, there's something of interest in these half-dozen premieres, starting with Sunday's "Mini-Golf Madness," a trip through some of the nation's most unusual miniature golf courses. How unusual? Well, there's Kentucky's Bible-themed course (hey, watch out for that burning bush hazard!), as well as a creepy course in an Illinois funeral home basement.

Also on Sunday, "Waterparks 2004" is a lively review of the most popular water rides in the country, including an "uphill water coaster" and the longest tunnel ride in the country, for those who like their vacations wet and wonderful.

Monday's "Ultimate Walt Disney World" special spends an hour updating viewers on park features including the new Mission: Space ride, as well as interviewing the creators and technicians who try to ensure that Disney World stays ahead of the curve in its tourist attractions.

Travel Channel occasionally seems to assume that money is no object for most of its viewers, so Monday's "Hawaii's Best on a Budget" special is a welcome, cost-conscious exception to that rule. Among the highlights: a luxury ship that costs under $500 for a seven-day cruise, as well as other strategies for avoiding sticker shock on Maui and Kauai.

Horoscope This Week

By Caroline James - Zap2it

Aries (March 21 - April 20)

You'll want to tell people what's on your mind, and some of it might not be pleasant. If you step on some toes, don't be surprised later.

Taurus (April 21 - May 20)

You'll flip-flop on what you want to buy, much to your associates' chagrin. If you can't decide, wait.

Gemini (May 21 - June 20)

Self-improvement will be the name of the game. Look into taking some classes or reading books on a topic that might make you a better person.

Cancer (June 21 - July 20)

You'll be driven to privacy, so curl up in a safe haven - wanting to feel protected is perfectly normal.

Leo (July 21 - Aug. 21)

Social activities will bring you joy if you play your cards right. Hanging around the right people will do you a world of good.

Virgo (Aug. 22 - Sept. 22)

Career matters could benefit you more than you know, especially if you've been putting in long hours.

Libra (Sept. 23 - Oct. 22)

Travel could be on your mind so start saving up the funds to take a trip. You'll have to discipline yourself to do it, but it will be worth it.

Scorpio (Oct. 23 - Nov. 22)

Joint finances take top priority at this time. If you've been considering pooling resources, now is the time to do it.

Sagittarius (Nov. 23 - Dec. 20)

Partnership issues come to the forefront. If you've been pulling more than your fair share, you'll let your significant other know.

Capricorn (Dec. 21 - Jan. 19)

It's time to do your civic duty and volunteer. If you are not active in your community, think about getting out there and lending your hand.

Aquarius (Jan. 20 - Feb. 18)

You'll be creative enough to paint or sculpt. Why not try your hand at it? If you need a partner, find one at a class.

Pisces (Feb. 19 - March 20)

Home issues highlight your agenda - you'll need to address something with someone. It's better that you don't put this off.

Cover Story

HBO goes west in search of 'Deadwood'

By Kate O'Hare
© Zap2it

In the early decades of the 20th century, the last of the people who saw the Wild West with their own eyes died. Some survived to see the birth of the movies, in which the West would find new life, although the celluloid version would likely have been an unfamiliar place to the cowpokes, prospectors, settlers and displaced American Indians who lived (or didn't) through the experience.

The romance of chasing the sunset into a new life, that endless promise of the second chance, superseded the brutal reality of stretching the nation from coast to coast.

It was not the God-given right of manifest destiny that propelled the move West as much as greed, desperation and fear, propped up by a small measure of hope. That hope is hard to find in the world of the HBO series "Deadwood," premiering Sunday, March 21 - swamped as it is in a sea of muck, blood, horse manure and profanity - but it shines nonetheless.

"The epigraph for our show," says David Milch ("NYPD Blue"), creator and executive producer, "is this: Let us remember too how glory may flare of a sudden up from the filth of the world's floor. It's such a beautiful story. I love our country so much, in all of its shortcomings. We have the capacity for such terrible tragedy and for real transcendence or deep goodness."

"I remember once, I hit a low spot and didn't really see any point in going on, and this guy, who I have a lot of respect for, said to me, 'It's only when I am trapped in Hell that I can find my way to Heaven's gate.' What I wanted to re-enact in this series was a form of original sin."

Blending real and fictional characters and events, the 12-episode

"Deadwood" is set in 1876 in the town of the same name, in the Black Hills of South Dakota. Deeded to the Sioux Nation only eight years before, the land became home to the richest gold strike in American history. Fortune-seekers formed an outlaw settlement, outside the boundaries of the United States, founded in blood and united by greed.

The series opens in July, just two weeks after Custer's army fell to the Sioux in the Battle of Little Big Horn. Firmly in the grip of saloonkeeper and criminal entrepreneur Al Swearengen (Ian McShane), Deadwood is changed forever by the arrival of two sets of newcomers.

Making a low-key entrance is the mercantile duo of former marshal Seth Bullock (Timothy Olyphant) and Jewish merchant Sol Star (John Hawkes). They aim to set up a hardware store and avoid trouble (they succeed in one and completely fail in the other).

Creating more of a stir are legendary gunslinger Wild Bill Hickok (Keith Carradine) and his companions, Charlie Utter (Dayton Callie) and the equally legendary Calamity Jane (Robin Weigert), whose capacity for foul language is exceeded only by her thirst for liquor.

The chance meeting of Hickok and Bullock sets off a chain of events that eventually brings law, if not order, to Deadwood, but not before chaos and suffering on a biblical scale.

"The idea, rather than revise history," Carradine says, "is trying to get it right. There are so many myths and so many fantasies about the West. It's been romanticized and fantasized. It's the idea of presenting this information, most of which will be new for the general public, because they're so steeped in inaccuracies and myths, repeated over and over again by Hollywood. We're going to show you how it actually was."

Milch thinks this frontier tale still has much to say in a world where new frontiers are hard to find.

"As we live into the sense of limitation, then what do we do?" he says. "Do we turn in upon ourselves? As long as there's a beckoning West, you can justify anything. You can always start over. But now you first live into your sense of finitude and limitation."

"That's why this is not a Western. This is not a story about cowboys. This is a story about an abstract - gold. It is the opposite of the frontier spirit. Gold is an illusion agreed upon. It's like history."

"It has no intrinsic value, only that which people agree collectively to ascribe to it. This is an organizing social principle. That's what I wanted to show. Out of that abstraction is the genesis of society. Deadwood, because it was literally outside America, the only thing that was organizing the behavior was the enmity toward the other and an agreed-upon illusion."

Speaking of illusion, the sets of "Deadwood" are constructed at Gene Autry's Melody Ranch, a bit of Old West moviemaking now surrounded by an expensive, gated housing development in Newhall, Calif., about a half-hour north of Los Angeles. Punch in your code at the gate, pass the palatial houses, turn right and then left, and you're in a ramshackle town with a rutted quagmire for a main street.

"That thoroughfare was famous," Milch says. "The stench was so unbearable. It was so deep, there's a story that a guy actually drowned in the muck. That's a helluva way to go."

Perhaps the only thing dirtier than Deadwood itself is the language, which is salty even for HBO. This is no mere indulgence, Milch says, but a way to establish the pecking order in a world without rules.

'Smallville' hero started out as a model

By Taylor Michaels
© Zap2it

Q What other acting projects was Tom Welling involved in before being cast as Clark Kent in "Smallville"? He looks as if he could have been a model. - Becky Butler, Goltry, Okla.

A A native New Yorker, Welling was discovered at age 21 by a catalog shoot scout who encouraged him to try modeling, a career that took Welling around the world for a few years until he decided he'd rather try acting.

He got his first big break in a romantic role opposite Amy Brenneman on "Judging Amy," a 2001 gig that expanded from three to six episodes after the character clicked with viewers. He also had smaller guest shots on "Special Unit 2" and "Undeclared" before signing for "Smallville."

The hit WB Network series, which films in Vancouver, British Columbia, keeps Welling pretty busy, but he recently squeezed in a feature film appearance in the Steve Martin-Bonnie Hunt holiday comedy "Cheaper by the Dozen." All in all, not bad for an actor who turns 27 on April 26.

Q Who sings the theme song to the TV series "Sue Thomas: F.B. Eye"? I love it! - Carole Pilgrim, Orange, Calif.

A That's Jessica Andrews performing "Who I Am" from her compact disc of the same title.

Q During the early episodes of "The O.C.," Marissa (Mischa Barton) had a younger sister, but since the Julie-Jimmy divorce, no one ever mentions her. What happened? - S. Zenger via e-mail.

A Nothing. A Fox publicist for the hit series assures me that Kaitlin Cooper, played by young actress Shailene Woodley in early episodes, is still very much an unseen presence there at home with her mom, Julie (Melinda Clarke), and there have been, in fact, passing references to the character, usually in the context of how she complicates her mother's schedule.

Woodley, who recently co-starred with Ann-Margret in the Hallmark Channel movie "A Place Called Home," probably will continue to make occasional guest appearances on "The O.C." but she never has been designated a series regular nor has her character ever been a key figure in the story lines - so far, at least.

Feature Story

Making 'Whoopi': Behind the scenes of a sitcom

By Jacqueline Cutler
© Zap2it

On the set of a TV show, the craft services table is like a magnet. Ubiquitous platters of food encourage passersby to hang out and munch. Though it requires some discipline to keep on walking, the pickings usually are pretty mundane, mostly consisting of junk food.

On the Queens, N.Y., set of NBC's Tuesday sitcom "Whoopi," however, one must muster serious willpower to ignore the spread. From mid-morning pastries to sumptuous lunches of pepper steak and rice, Greek salads, grilled chicken or marinated vegetables, the good food just keeps coming. When workers clear the lunches, they immediately lay out wrap sandwiches and more snacks.

"This ain't the way it is in the theater," says Mary Testa, who plays Sophia, a friend of main character Mavis (series star Whoopi Goldberg). As a veteran of 20 years of New York stage productions, Testa says, "On the first day, they'll put out coffee and a bagel, but that's it. The good food is Whoopi. She insists on it."

She also insists on, according to the actors on the show, a mellow atmosphere, and she encourages the cast to pitch ideas and jokes. The set has the same feel as the star - edgy, political, profane and funny.

On a recent frigid day, the 260 seats in the studio are empty. In rehearsal, the actors goof around with one another, tossing the "f" word into lines, knowing it will never be heard on an 8 p.m. network sitcom.

When there is a break, someone brings Whoopi a plate. As she tucks into her steak, she talks about making a show in her hometown. "People view it as cost-prohibitive," she says of New York. "I needed a gig, and this was a good one to come along."

Despite a lackluster pilot, the sitcom has improved, delivering some sharp barbs, particularly political ones. "Some of the political stuff is mine," Whoopi says. "It does have my sensibility, otherwise I wouldn't be able to do it."

The sitcom revolves around Mavis, a former one-hit wonder who owns the Lamont Hotel in Manhattan. A sign in the hotel lobby reads, "Tonight in the Nappy Dug Out, Fat-Free Martinis. Today's Terror Alert Level is High." The Nappy Dug Out is decorated with jazz albums and hockey regalia from area teams.

Though sitcoms are often improbable, it is not a stretch to imagine Goldberg presiding over this bar, keeping the drinks and one-liners flowing. Goldberg meshes well with Mavis.

Mavis is a funny, wise woman, the sort other women want for a friend. Her brother, Courtney (Wren T. Brown), is a rather formal fellow. "This was an absolute case of providence and propitious timing," Wren says of landing this role, proving that sometimes casting to type works. "I only knew the character was Whoopi Goldberg's brother and a conservative Republican who was expunged from his job at Enron." Or, as most people would say, Courtney was fired and now lives with his sister.

Keeping with the flow of actors who innately understand their characters is Elizabeth Regen, who plays Courtney's racially challenged girlfriend, Rita.

Like Goldberg, Regen is a Manhattan native who loves her city passionately. "Rita is a culturally confused product of hip-hop," Regen says. "She does not think she's black. She's not coming in with dreadlocks and African garb. She's from New York City, much like myself, and has been raised among so many ethnicities, much like myself."

Regen has another fun tie to the show. Her dad grew up with Whoopi's brother, Clyde. Years ago, Regen's dad was watching television one day and said, "That's Caryn Johnson from my building." Indeed it was, and now his daughter works for her.

The other main character, Nasim (Omid Djalili), is Mavis' handyman, sometimes-concierge and steady comic foil. As one who has had success as a stand-up comic, the British-Iranian Djalili always wants to explore the comedic possibilities.

"We have a vision of what we want it to be," he says of the show. "We want it to be a smart, snappy sitcom that deals with multicultural issues and deals with current affairs and has the audacity to say what people are thinking but would never say."

The show and its star harbor no sacred cows, making fair game of the president, Arab-American rela-

Whoopi Goldberg produces and stars in NBC's "Whoopi" Tuesdays. She relishes addressing topics others fear and doesn't worry about censorship. "I don't think they really want to fool with me," she says.

tions; the differences and similarities between the races, war, abortion, sex, drinking and smoking. Where does she draw the line?

Goldberg peers over her glasses and says, "I don't know. I haven't done it yet. Jeff Zucker (president of NBC Entertainment, News and Cable) has said to us, 'go further.' I think further is something we will work toward."

She is game to tackle "anything that comes up," Goldberg says. Ideally, she wants to do a gag that would have all the Democratic presidential candidates stopping by the hotel just to use the bathroom, as an actor playing President Bush did earlier this season. "It would be a logistical nightmare to pull off," she says, "but it would be worth it."

Goldberg's primary aim for the show, she says, is "longevity, and to raise some discussion about what goes on in the world."

In the Spotlight

Annette O'Toole: Resident songstress of 'Smallville'

By Jay Bobbin
© Zap2it

Not only does she play Martha Kent in "Smallville," Annette O'Toole also can carry - and compose - a tune.

The actress has started a second career beyond her weekly role as the Earth mother of young Clark Kent (Tom Welling) in the Wednesday-night WB Network series. In tandem with her husband, "Laverne & Shirley" and "Saturday Night Live" alumnus Michael McKean, O'Toole now is a songwriter ... an Oscar-nominated one.

She and McKean were up for the best original song honor at last month's Academy Awards for "A Kiss at the End of the Rainbow," one of the tunes in the 2003 folk-music satire "A Mighty Wind" (which has its premium-cable premiere this month on HBO). The film was written and directed by the couple's close friend Christopher Guest, who also worked with McKean on the 1984 cult classic "This Is Spinal Tap."

O'Toole is stunned by the degree of early success she's had with her newest pursuit. "Michael has been writing music pretty much all his life," she reports. "He started composing when he was 14, so it's not new for him. But I started writing after 9/11. There's music in our house all the time. We have a piano, Michael has two or three guitars, and I come from a musical-comedy background. It's not like it was completely foreign to me, but on 9/11, I was in Vancouver and couldn't get a plane out ... so I got in my rental car and drove 20 hours to get home. I just wanted to be with my family."

The next morning, O'Toole was called to return for "Smallville" duty. "Somewhere between Portland and Seattle, this tune started going through my head, and it was driving me crazy. Michael came with me, so I said to him, 'Would you listen to this and tell me if it's a song that exists, or something I just made up?' I sang the melody, and he said, 'I think you're making it up.' Just as a lark, we started putting words to it, and it became this whimsical song about a girl named Potato who was in a paddy wagon. By the time we got to Vancouver, Michael said, 'You know, I think Chris (Guest) would like it.'"

Not only did that tune end up on the soundtrack of "A Mighty Wind," Guest also commissioned a love song from O'Toole and McKean that became "A Kiss at the End of the Rainbow." Guest thought it needed to be a bit funnier, but his wife, actress Jamie Lee Curtis, felt it was just right.

"Then," O'Toole recalls, "the others went and did the movie, and I went off to 'Smallville.' Michael saw the movie first, and I asked him, 'How was it? How was the song?' He said, 'I want you to see for yourself.' When I did, I was just floored. You hear the song in its entirety three times, which never happens in movies, so people got to know it as a character in the film."

O'Toole now spends much of her "down" time on the "Smallville" set working on her music, sometimes bouncing ideas off co-star John Schneider, the "Dukes of Hazzard" and Broadway veteran who plays Jonathan Kent.

"I play the mandolin now, too," O'Toole reveals. "And I have one that I keep in Vancouver. Every once in a while, John will break out into a tune and I'll sing along with him, but we haven't done any music together officially; it's just for fun. This just goes to show that you're never too old to pursue something else."

U.S. women seek gold at Championships

This week, the world's best skaters gather in Dortmund, Germany, for the World Figure Skating Championships.

Peggy Fleming, who will provide analysis when ABC, ESPN and ESPN2 broadcasts the event beginning Thursday, March 25, sees two American skaters as favorites in the ladies singles category.

"Well, I think it's all Michelle Kwan's story - and Sasha Cohen's," says Fleming, an Olympic gold medalist in 1968 and a three-time world champion. "I think they're definitely the favorites. I think Kwan is just in a class by herself. She just has such a competitive mind, and she really knows how to feed off of all that energy, and not let it ruffle her too much. It's remarkable to watch her do this, and she just loves it. She loves the challenge of it all."

This year, Kwan - never able to rise above a silver medal in Olympic competition - goes for her second consecutive world title and sixth overall. "She's just awesome," Fleming says. "Sometimes I think, 'Well, maybe she's not going to be able to pull it out this year, because it's been quite a few years that she's been on the top, and when is it going to slip?' And I'm sure that's going through her mind a little bit, too. But she just electrifies herself and the audience as well, and she knows how to get into that zone where (she) really feels comfortable and the audience feels comfortable. Everyone is into it. So she knows how to do that, and it's just wonderful to be able to see that happen before our eyes. That's what makes it fun to commentate, just being there at events like that, and it's special for the audience as well."

Cohen, who failed to medal at the 2002 Olympic Winter Games in Salt Lake City, took fourth at the World Championships last year. "Sasha Cohen is an up-and-coming talent," Fleming says. "She hasn't been able to pull it together when the time has been tough, but she's definitely one of the best practice skaters I've ever seen. I mean, she is just absolutely exquisite on the ice, but she just can't seem to pull it all together when the competition's on. But who knows? Maybe this is her year. You just never know, and that's what's so fun about competitions, is that you never know how it's going to come out - (given such factors as whether) everybody's healthy or in the right mood and can pull off the best performance that they can."

On the men's side, Fleming sees the field a little more wide open. "(Russian national champion Evgeny) Plushenko is going to be real good, but he has a knee injury. He hasn't won the last two competitions he's been in - the Grand Prix Final and the Europeans. Johnny Weir, our U.S. champion, is looking pretty good. And he's got a very nice style, very light jumps and kind of an airy quality to his skating, looks kind of effortless, and (there is) some nice body line to his skating. And then of course, (American) Michael Weiss is the two-time bronze medalist, and he's had a pretty poor season this year, very up and down. So I think the men's field will be pretty good."

Then there is France's Brian Joubert, who won gold at the European Championships last month. "I think now that he's being coached by (Olympic gold medalist and four-time world champion) Alexei Yagudin, I mean that's a pretty good switch, a nice force behind him. I think maybe that will help him having that confidence and that influence of Alexei might be just what he needs because Alexei was just awesome. I just loved the way he skated. All of the things we want skating to be, I think, Alexei pulled together, and I think it gave men's skating a real good image."

Fleming sees China as a force in the pairs competition. "(Xue) Shen and (Hongbo) Zhao, what a wonderful story they are," she says. "I get so excited watching them now. They're really comfortable with who they are, and they've really found their identity in their style, and they know how to get themselves in that zone of skating well under pressure, and they've got the whole package now. They've got the technique, they've got beautiful choreography and costumes, and they're relating to each other more and relating to the audience, and they're just unbelievable. I think the fight for second place will probably be another Chinese pairs team, (Qing) Pang and (Jian) Tong, and (Hao) Zhang and (Dan) Zhang, are going to be pretty interesting to watch."

"NASCAR Racing" Sunday, March 21 (Fox, 1 p.m. ET): Historic Darlington Raceway in South Carolina, which first hosted a NASCAR race back in 1972, welcomes the circuit's top drivers today for the running of the Carolina Dodge Dealers 400. Ricky Craven is the defending champion, edging Kurt Busch in the closest finish since NASCAR started using electronic timing in 1993. It was Craven's only win last season, prompting a team housecleaning that included a switch from Pontiac to Chevrolet.

"NBA Basketball" Wednesday, March 24 (ESPN, 10:30 p.m. ET): With a bulk of the NBA's best teams in the West, it's tough to pinpoint the conference's best rivalry. One that should be at or close to the top of anyone's list, though, is Los Angeles vs. Sacramento. Hostilities are renewed for the third time this season tonight in L.A., where the Lakers failed to take advantage of the undermanned Kings in their last meeting in February. Peja Stojakovic scored 37 in the two-point win, negating Kobe Bryant's 35-point night.

"Boxing" Saturday, March 27 (HBO, 10 p.m. ET): Rising contender Jermain Taylor hopes you can go home again - in this case Little Rock, Ark. - when he takes on Alex Bunema in a scheduled 10-round middleweight bout. Taylor (19-0, 14 KOs) faces the more experienced Bunema (24-3-2, 12 KOs), who hails from Zaire. In the co-feature, Dominick Guinn, who also is from Arkansas, seeks to keep his perfect record intact in a scheduled 10-round heavyweight bout against Monte Barrett.

Monday

7:15 a.m. on AMC

Movie: The King and I

A beautiful young governess (Deborah Kerr) must contend with the stern King of Siam (Yul Brynner) as she tries to bring music and life into his dour harem. Misogyny, polygamy and xenophobia are all rendered in Rodgers and Hammerstein tunes so catchy you'll be humming for days. Brynner won the best actor Academy Award, and Oscar nominee Kerr took home a Golden Globe.

12:25 p.m. on AMC

Movie: The Return of the Pink Panther

The catastrophically feckless Inspector Clouseau (Peter Sellers), the most beguiling French detective ever to walk into a wall, is revived by writer-director Blake Edwards in this 1974 comedy. Clouseau tracks down a jewel thief, matches wits with his houseboy (Burt Kwouk) and adds several dozen nervous ticks to the face of his chief inspector (Herbert Lom) by courtously inquiring, "And how are Mrs. Chief Inspector and all the little chief inspectors?"

Tuesday

7 a.m. on TBS

Movie: Ferris Bueller's Day Off

Matthew Broderick stars as Ferris Bueller, one of film's most engaging young narcissists, in this comedy that defined the ethos of the 1980s. The teen who can do no wrong cons his parents, torments his obnoxious principal (Jeffrey Jones), takes a joy ride in his best friend's father's Ferrari and leads a parade. Alan Ruck ("Spin City"), Jennifer Grey and Mia Sara also star.

Wednesday

7 p.m. and DSC

Lost City of Pompeii: Secrets of the Dead

When Italy's Mount Vesuvius erupted in A.D. 79, everything in the path of its lava was buried, including the city of Pompeii, which has become a popular site since the excavation of its remains. But Herculaneum, another nearby city, has yet to garner such attention. This special follows the efforts of a team seeking to unearth this other city destroyed by Vesuvius, uncovering the grand homes, baths, libraries and other structures of an aristocratic society.

Friday

9:15 a.m. on AMC

Movie: The Bad News Bears

Although it may seem like a never-ending advertisement for beer, this 1976 movie's focus is baseball — pint-sized baseball. Walter Matthau stars as Coach Buttermaker, a slovenly has-been who forms a Little League team. The group is lousy, and it seems the only saviors are a whiz of a pitcher (Tatum O'Neal) and a motorcycle punk (Jackie Earle Haley). Could the coach's life get any better?

9:45 a.m. and TMC

Movie: Spy Kids 2: The Island of Lost Dreams

Siblings Carmen and Juni (Alexa Vega, Daryl Sabara) are back in action in writer-director Robert Rodriguez's fast-moving 2002 sequel, which contains monster images that parents may want to consider before letting youngsters watch. The adventurous brother and sister, their spy parents (Antonio Banderas, Carla Gugino) and two rival spy kids (Emily Osment, Matt O'Leary) are all on the trail of a mad scientist (Steve Buscemi).

TV Trivia

Alan Tudyk ("A Knight's Tale") attended Juilliard, and later founded the Rubber Chicken Standup Improv Troupe.

Sean Connery ("The Presidio") has two tattoos, "Mum and Dad" and "Scotland Forever," from his time in the Royal Navy.

Sunday Best Bets

7 p.m. on 26-ABC on 13-ABC
Extreme Makeover: Home Edition

Tom and Deirdre McCrory have two small sons and a small house. Now she's pregnant with triplets, and they need to supersize their home — fast. In the new episode "McCrory Family," a team of designers and builders turns the couple's modest property into something more livable for a family of seven. At the end, viewers see the results of the home makeover, and learn whether the McCrorys' two boys will be getting new brothers, sisters or both.

7 p.m. on 6-NBC
American Dreams

Jack and Sam (Tom Verica, Arlen Escarpeta) find their respective outlooks changed in different ways in the new episode "Chasing the Past." Roxanne and Luke (Vanessa Lengies, guest star Jamie Elman) ponder whether their relationship should go forward. Patty (Sarah Ramos) covers for Meg (Brittany Snow) after a car accident. Sibling singers Evan & Jaron guest star as The Everly Brothers; Tyra Banks also guest stars.

8 p.m. on 8-FOX on 25-FOX
Malcolm in the Middle

Francis (Christopher Masterson) is enraged when Lois and Hal (Jane Kaczmarek, Bryan Cranston) send Reese (Justin Berfield) packing in the new episode "Reese's Apartment." Reese then gets a place of his own. Malcolm (Frankie Muniz) debates whether to expose a school athlete who took an essay written by Malcolm and submitted it as his own work.

8 p.m. on 6-NBC

Law & Order: Criminal Intent

Bodies of murder victims keep turning up as Gören and the pregnant Eames (Vincent D'Onofrio, Kathryn Erbe) try to find a missing bookkeeper in "But Not Forgotten." One of the dead people was the hired-killer brother of the person being sought. The police detectives ultimately suspect a corrupt ex-cop (guest star Terry Serpico) of involvement.

8 p.m. and DSC
Animal Face-Off

This new series is about mortal combat between deadly animal species, but be assured, no actual animals were harmed in its making. For each episode, experts on biology, animal behavior and animatronics join forces to create robotic reproductions of two ferocious critters. After a series of tests, the results are fed into a computer, where a virtual battle ensues. This episode pits a great white shark against a saltwater crocodile.

8:30 p.m. on 8-FOX on 25-FOX

Arrested Development

Michael (Jason Bateman) ponders what to do when Maggie (guest star Julia Louis-Dreyfus) unwittingly gives him the legal file on his father (Jeffrey Tambor) in the new episode "Justice Is Blind." Gob (Will Arnett) then takes the file and enlists Tobias (David Cross) to get more evidence. Lindsay (Portia de Rossi) wants a replica of the Ten Commandments taken off the courthouse lawn.

All My Children

After hearing from Erica that their night-mare will never end since she opted to keep Michael's baby, Bianca asked Babe to take her away from her mother. Babe and Bianca were trapped in a furious storm as Bianca went into labor and Babe helped her deliver baby Miranda. Jack confronted Erica about her drinking, prompting her to return his engagement ring. Frustrated over his inability to reach Sam and Maddie after a tree hit the house, Edmund told Maria that he's going ahead with the surgery. Bobby wanted Anita back, but she can't get past his affair with a co-worker. Danielle and Reggie got closer, but she went quiet when he brought up his dislike of Derek. Kendall rehired Mia and Simone, vowing never to forgive Greenlee. Coming: Ryan offers comfort to Kendall.

As the World Turns

As Mike revealed to Pilar that he's in love with Katie, he also discovered that Katie has been following him and using Henry in her sleuthing. Pilar revealed to Mike that she's running from a powerful man and needs his help. Barbara was shattered to have an incident of sightlessness, and confided to Walker her fear that something is wrong with her. Lily admitted to Dusty that she doesn't want to be Lily any more. Coming: Katie presses ahead with her investigation.

Bold and Beautiful

Hector rescued Amber from her burning apartment moments before they were totally engulfed. Trying to offer comfort, Hector told Amber to call her family, and she tearfully said she has none. Nick shocked Brooke with a marriage proposal, even as Ridge defied Jackie and Massimo that he'll never give up on Brooke. When Massimo refused to hire Deacon at Marone Industries, Deacon made good on his threat and rushed to Brooke's office, determined to tell her about the paternity test. Jackie followed Deacon, begging him not to reveal the secret. Coming: Amber needs support to start over.

Days of Our Lives

As John became increasingly suspicious of Marlena, she used her psychiatric skills to convince him that it was his conditioning by Stefano that's making him believe she's a killer. Much to Marlena's relief, he clung to her explanation and asked her for forgiveness. Meanwhile, Belle finally told Shawn that she lied, only to realize he slept through her confession. Jan told Nicole she'd return the evidence once she has Shawn. Following a visit from Victor's ghost, Nicole told Brady she's releasing the money to build the concert hall, but later set the model of the hall on fire. When Bonnie refused Rex's request to marry Mimi, Mimi asked him, but he wasn't ready. Coming: Sam wrestles with her feelings about Lucas.

General Hospital

The judge gave joint custody of the children to Sonny and Carly. However, when a bomb blasted the courtroom, Sonny wanted Carly to have full custody. Carly went to break up with Alcazar only to learn that the explosion blinded him. Sonny cared for Sam, who had been stabbed after seeing the man who planted the bomb in Sonny's limo. Jason was about to follow Sonny's order and kill Faith when Luke arrived and asked him not to do it as a personal favor. Luke then contacted Alcazar, pretending to help him ruin Sonny. Emily was stunned to come face to face with Zander at the cottage. Sage saw Georgie and Dillon sharing a kiss and decided to go along with Tracy's plan to ruin Georgie's reputation. Coming: Jason saves Sam from the assassin.

Soap Synopsis

Guiding Light

Faced with news headlines that Marah has been named as a suspect and Jeffrey's been covering up for her, Jeffrey had to excuse himself from her case. Reva got a bad feeling that Doris Wolfe, Jeffrey's replacement, has it in for Marah. A letter from Carrie arrived for Josh. Alan took out his anger at news of the mob involvement with anti-monium on Alex, who worked on Alan about his real problems with Gus. When Gus quit, Alan did nothing to stop him. Edmund produced a photo of a younger Jeffrey in military uniform with two other people, one being Christopher. Tony angrily told Eden she hasn't been cut loose from her ties to the mob. Coming: Jeffrey tries to look out for Marah.

One Life to Live

Hearing that assault charges would not be filed against John, Stephen gave his lawyer instructions and made a mysterious call. An unseen assailant then shot Stephen, but before he died in front of witnesses, he accused John of doing the deed. Paul told Kelly he couldn't help her get a baby. Marlie's grades began to suffer as she overextended herself. When Daniel canceled his date with Lindsay, she turned to Rex, who kissed her, which Daniel saw. Antonio questioned Ramona, the woman who raised Adriana, and is certain she's lying about Dorian being Adriana's mother. Todd saw Kevin interacting with Jack and wasn't pleased. Coming: Bo has to arrest John for murder.

Passions

Everyone was shocked when Sheridan chose Antonio again. Beth tried keeping Sheridan away from baby Martin, but Sheridan overheard Beth tell Mrs. Wallace that she stole the baby. Despite the support of her friends, Theresa's emotional outbursts caused her to lose custody of little Ethan permanently. Meanwhile, Ethan had no idea that Gwen has her sights set on the child. Grace made her decision about leaving for Italy immediately after her daughters lashed out at her. Kay invited Miguel to stay with her and Tabitha. Whitney was concerned to learn that Chad must repay a loan to Alistair. Coming: Fox faces danger to help Theresa.

Young and Restless

Weber arrested Kevin for the electrocution incident despite his denials. Jack fumed when Nikki, Jill, Ashley and Brad supported John's decision to accept Victor's offer. Jack then reinstated the hair-straightening project despite Ashley's halting the research. Damon gave comfort to Phyllis about her son's rejection, which led to lovemaking. Arthur arrived at the Chancellor estate and Jill wasn't happy when Kay announced that he wants to move in. J.T. became anxious when Shiloh explained that if he wants to sign with her label he must go to Los Angeles with her. Chris admitted to Paul that she's having second thoughts about her job. Coming: J.T. makes a big decision about his future.

Real life imitates real life when Emmy Award-winning actor David Tom joins the cast of ABC's "One Life to Live."

He plays Paul Cramer, the brother of sister Heather Tom's character, Kelly Cramer. The two previously had worked in "The Young and the Restless" at the same time, but never in the same story line.

The Toms may have departed "Y&R," but comedian Geri Jewell, one of the first performers with a physical challenge (cerebral palsy) to win a regular role in a TV series (Geri, "The Facts of Life"), stops by Genoa City for a visit Friday, March 26 and March 29. She will be involved in Lauren Woodland's (Brittany) story line.

Fans of "Days of Our Lives" now can catch same-day episodes of their "Days" at night. On March 15, the popular series began airing evenings on SOAPnet, the cable channel dedicated to soaps, and on Sunday nights in a marathon of the week's episodes.

Dear Paulette: I would like to know if Eden Riegel, who plays Bianca or if Alexa Havins, who plays Babe in "All My Children," are pregnant in real life? Will there be any characters that will be leaving the show in the near future? Thank you very much. -Linda Clemenko via the Internet.

Dear Reader: Neither Eden nor Alexa is pregnant. It is strictly story-line related. As for departures, Marc Menard will be exiting the ABC soap for story-line reasons.

Dear Paulette: I would like to know how Meg Ryan's (ex-Betsy Stewart) stint was ended on "As the World Turns." I used to watch when my children were small and, now again, since I'm retired. -Anne Feld, Chicago.

Dear Reader: Meg Ryan played Betsy Stewart Montgomery Andropoulos from 1982 to 1984. The part was recast with Lindsay Frost, who played the character for the next four years. In 1984, Betsy was involved in a terrible accident, and when the locket her husband had given her was found near a body (she had picked up a hitchhiker), it was assumed she had died. But she really was alive in a Vermont hospital with - what else - amnesia!

CLANKERS

To place

Movie: NTSB:

The work of the National Transportation Safety Board is dramatized in this new TV movie, delayed from airing several times after the tragedies of Sept.

11, 2001. Investigators sift through the remains of a downed airplane, seeking reasons for the accident. Mandy Patinkin heads an ensemble cast that also includes Eric Close ("Without a Trace"), Brett Cullen, Jeffrey D. Sams and Ted McGinley ("Hope & Faith").

Fear Factor

Would you eat bugs for $50,000? Or would you rather risk being squashed like one? Those are two of the challenges facing the six contestants in this installment of the reality series. One involves a heart-stopping fall from a 50-story building; the other has participants using their mouths to clean a car's windshield of insect corpses. Joe Rogan hosts.

Monster House

To travelers who make Las Vegas a regular destination, Las Vegas might seem like a second home, but someone gets a home that literally echoes the sights and sounds of the gambling mecca in the new episode "Vegas House." The results are likely to make guests want to start gambling, and they may come out much more ahead of the game than if they were in an actual casino — depending on how generous their hosts are.

Movie: Austin Powers: The Spy Who Shagged Me

The ultrahip detective, again played by Mike Myers, returns to his own place and time to pursue the sinister Dr. Evil in this often hilarious 1999 sequel. Heather Graham is a welcome addition as CIA operative Felicity Shagwell, but the real show stealer is Dr. Evil's clone, Mini-Me (Verne Troyer).

Everybody Loves Raymond

When it comes to eating, Robert (Brad Garrett) likes to lead with his chin; his food has to touch it before going in his mouth. This odd habit has Amy's (Monica Horan) parents wondering and sends Amy to Debra (Patricia Heaton) in search of advice. Georgia Engel and Fred Willard return as Amy's folks in the new episode "Crazy Chin."

Everwood

Ephram (Gregory Smith) tells Madison (Sarah Lancaster) he loves her in "The L Word." She doesn't come forth with the same declaration, leaving him disheartened. Linda (Marcia Cross) gets more than she bargained for by agreeing to mind Delia (Vivien Cardone), while Andy (Treat Williams) is away with Ephram and the piano teacher (James Earl Jones).

Cracking Up

An unexpected encounter in the house prompts Lesley (Molly Shannon) to have a protective "panic room" installed in the new episode "Panic House." She then locks Ben (Jason Schwartzman), Liam (David Walton) and several others inside the room accidentally, and forgets the code that can release them.

Tuesday Best Bets

7 p.m. on 38-WB

Gilmore Girls

Luke (Scott Patterson) has mixed feelings about a surprise visit from his sister (guest star Kathleen Wilhoite) in "A Family Matter." Lorelai (Lauren Graham) backs down from the promise she made Jason (guest star Chris Eigeman) to reveal their romance to her parents. Rory (Alexis Bledel) inspires Paris (Liza Weil) to make some relationship-related decisions.

7 p.m. on 54-UPN

One on One

Motown veteran Smokey Robinson guest stars in an episode named after one of his biggest music hits, "Tears of a Clown." He plays Duane's (Kelly Perine) estranged father, who needs a new kidney — and hopes Duane will be the supplier. Flex (Flex Alexander) isn't happy with the new co-host (guest star Jenny McCarthy) forced upon him by his boss (guest star Beth Littleford, "The Daily Show") because of his show's sagging ratings.

7:30 p.m. on 26-ABC on 13-ABC

I'm With Her

Jim Belushi crosses over from his own sitcom, "According to Jim," to guest star in "The Second Date." He plays a dance teacher who teaches some moves to Patrick (David Sutcliffe), who plans to use them on his second date with Alex (Teri Poló). The upshot, Patrick learns later, is that Alex can't dance either. Late-night host Jimmy Kimmel appears as himself.

7:30 p.m. on 6-NBC

Happy Family

Have you ever received a gift that the giver gets more use out of than you do? That's what happens to Peter (John Larroquette) in the new episode "The Juicer." His family's latest gift to him brings on the realization that many of the presents Annie (Christine Baranski) chooses for him are things she wants. Sara (Melanie Paxson) discovers that not everyone at work loves office parties as much as she does.

8 p.m. on 26-ABC on 13-ABC

According to Jim

Jim (Jim Belushi) will do anything to get out of attending a baby shower in "The Imaginary Friend." He fibs to Cheryl (Courtney Thorne-Smith) that he has to accommodate a friend, who doesn't really exist, at the exact time of the shower. Of course, it's only a matter of time until Cheryl catches on.

8 p.m. on 6-NBC

Frasier

Frasier and Niles (Kelsey Grammer, David Hyde Pierce) seek professional help with personal matters in the new episode "Match Game." Frasier hires a matchmaker (guest star Laura Linney) to fix him up with some interesting women, but the resulting dates are disappointing, and he wants his money back.

8 p.m. on 19-PBS

Scientific American Frontiers

In "Unearthing Secret America," host Alan Alda surveys archaeological finds linked to specific parts of U.S. history.

They include remnants of a fort that confirm the challenges faced by colonists and remains of the first military submarine, the Hunley, which shed new light on the Civil War.

8 p.m. on USA

Movie: Heist

This 2001 crime drama benefits from the work of writer-director David Mamet and star Gene Hackman. Hackman plays a thief who wants to retire, but the man (Danny DeVito) who bankrolls his capers wants him to pull one last job. Then things go awry. Delroy Lindo, Rebecca Pidgeon (Mamet's wife) and Ricky Jay co-star as Hackman's criminal cohorts.

8:30 p.m. on HBO

Movie: Real Women Have Curves

The odyssey of a Mexican-American teenager (America Ferrera) with big dreams is traced in director Patricia Cardoso's affecting 2002 drama. The young woman's hopes for a college education soar when she's given a full scholarship by Columbia University, but her parents want her to stay in the family sewing business.

9 p.m. on 26-ABC

NYPD Blue

Partially ripped from the headlines, the new episode "Old Yeller" puts the police detectives on the trail of a kidnapper who keeps his female victims imprisoned in a self-styled dungeon and torture chamber. Medavoy (Gordon Clapp) becomes interested in an lustful, older woman (guest star Ellen Geer). Lana Parrilla ("Boomtown") also guest stars.

9 p.m. on 6-NBC

Law & Order: Special Victims Unit

A troubled youngster, who used the Internet to spell out his intentions to harm his sister, is found to have been sexually abused in the new episode "Sick." Seeking his assailant, Benson and Stabler (Mariska Hargitay, Christopher Meloni) are led to a toy-company tycoon who displays lots of affinity for children.

Sea Coast Echo

Wednesday Best Bets

7 p.m. on 38-WB
Smallville

Another classic character in "Superman" history appears as Perry White is played by Michael McKean — the husband of series co-star Annette O'Toole — in "Perry." His journalism career derailed by Lionel Luthor (John Glover), White comes to Smallville to do work for a tabloid show. Sure that he's seen Clark's (Tom Welling) superpowers in action, he sets out to expose young Kent.

8 p.m. on 8-FOX on 25-FOX
The O.C.

After several weeks off, the series returns as Marissa and Summer (Mischa Barton, Rachel Bilson) attend the birthday party of a young actor (guest star Colin Hanks) in the new episode "The L.A." Also a guest, Seth (Adam Brody) becomes attracted to another partygoer (guest star Paris Hilton) who isn't disinterested in him. Ryan (Benjamin McKenzie) wants to keep Marissa from finding out about Julie and Luke (Melinda Clarke, Chris Carmack).

8 p.m. on 6-NBC
The West Wing

President Bartlet (Martin Sheen) has a vacancy to fill on the Supreme Court after a Republican justice unexpectedly dies. He has plenty of candidates from whom to choose, spanning the political spectrum, but his meeting with a right-leaning judge (guest star William Fichtner, "Armageddon") has everyone's tongues wagging. Glenn Close makes a rare TV appearance in the new episode "The Supremes."

8 p.m. on 19-PBS
American Masters

Originally televised in 2001 to mark the 100th anniversary of his birth, "Richard Rodgers: The Sweetest Sounds" features many of the stage composer's classic songs. They first were heard in enduring musicals such as "The Sound of Music," "Oklahoma!" "The King and I" and "Carousel." Shirley Jones, Diahann Carroll, Maureen McGovern and fellow theater icons Andrew Lloyd Webber and Trevor Nunn comment and/or perform.

8 p.m. on TNN

Movie: The Untouchables

Sean Connery won the best supporting actor Oscar for his performance in this 1987 drama as Jim Malone, the Irish cop who helps federal agent Eliot Ness in his quest to take down crime lord Al Capone. But Connery's isn't the only star power in this production, which also features Kevin Costner as Ness and Robert De Niro as Capone. Brian De Palma directed from a script by Pulitzer Prize winner David Mamet.

8:30 p.m. on 4-CBS

The Stones

In the new episode "Seamus on You," Karly (Lindsay Sloane) is shocked by the unexpected arrival of a party animal (Ryan Aloisio) whom she met while visiting Ireland. Stan and Barbara (Robert Klein, Judith Light) become involved in a competition to see who can give the better gift.

9 p.m. on 26-ABC on 13-ABC
Stephen King's Kingdom Hospital

Peter (Jack Coleman) becomes young Mary's (guest star Jodelle Ferland) communication conduit to Dr. Hook and Mrs. Cruse (Andrew McCarthy, Diane Ladd) in the new episode "The West Side of Midnight," written by series mentor Stephen King. At the same time, Peter's roommate falls prey to Mary's chief enemy, Paul (Kett Turton).

9 p.m. on TNT

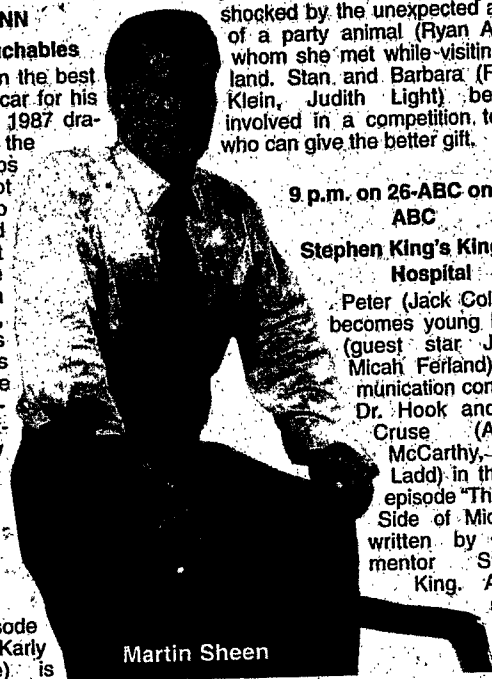

Movie: Pleasantville

Writer-director Gary Ross earned wide acclaim for his visually inventive 1998 comedy-fantasy. Tobey Maguire and Reese Witherspoon play modern teenagers transported through a television screen into the literally black-and-white world of a 1950s sitcom.

9:30 p.m. on ESPN

NBA Basketball

With a bulk of the NBA's best teams in the West, it's tough to pinpoint the conference's best rivalry. One that should be at or close to the top of anyone's list, though, is Los Angeles vs. Sacramento. Hostilities are renewed for the third time this season tonight in L.A., where the Lakers failed to take advantage of the undermanned Kings in their last meeting in February. Peja Stojakovic scored 37 in the two-point win, negating Kobe Bryant's 35-point night.

Thursday Best Bets

7 p.m. on 8-FOX on 25-FOX

Tru Calling

Jason Priestley joins the regular cast as Jack, a potential nemesis for title heroine Tru (Eliza Dushku), in the new episode "Daddy's Girl." Tru and Harrison (Shawn Reeves) are ambushed by Meredith (Jessica Collins) and their stepmother (Laura Leighton), who want them to spend time with their father on his birthday. Tru learns about her mother's special ability.

7:30 p.m. on 38-WB

Like Family

Danika (Megalyne Echikunwoke) fears Keith (J Mack Slaughter) is being used when he starts seeing her rival for a debate-team slot in the new episode "Dating the Enemy." Bobby (B.J. Mitchell) and his new flame (guest star Camille Lache Smith) go on a double date with Pop and his girlfriend (J. Anthony Brown, guest star Tembi Locke).

7:32 p.m. on 6-NBC

Will & Grace

Will (Eric McCormack) foolishly takes romance advice from Grace (Debra Messing) in the new episode "No Sex 'N' the City." He plays hard-to-get with his new flame (guest-star Bobby Cannavale), which backfires. Karen and Jack (Megan Mullally, Sean Hayes) are distraught at the endings of their favorite NBC shows. Bebe Neuwirth and Sharon Osbourne guest star.

Figure Skating

The men take center ice tonight with their long programs as ABC begins its coverage of the World Figure Skating Championships from Dortmund, Germany. American Johnny Weir hopes to duplicate his effort at the U.S. Championships in January when he captured the gold, and he recently promised to attempt a quad jump in his routine this time.

8:59 p.m. on 6-NBC

ER

Television-sitcom veteran Bob Newhart turns dramatic as a guest star in "Out of Africa." He plays an architect whose fading eyesight worries Dr. Lewis (Sherry Stringfield). Abby (Maura Tierney) is replaced by another nurse (Linda Cardellini). Dr. Corday (Alex Kingston) is stunned by what she learns about Dr. Dorset (Bruno Campos).

Friday Best Bets

7 p.m. and AMC

Movie: Jaws 2

Roy Scheider reprises his role as a beach-town lawman from the 1975 blockbuster "Jaws" in this 1978 sequel. He and his cohorts blew up one great white shark, but now one of the killer fish's relatives is cruising Amity's waters in search of some human entrees. A screening of the later sequel "Jaws: The Revenge" follows.

7 p.m. on HBO

Movie: Ricochet

John Lithgow and Denzel Washington star in this 1991 suspense film about a deranged killer (Lithgow) who gets out of prison determined to destroy the former rookie cop (Washington) who put him behind bars. Kevin Pollak, Lindsay Wagner and Mary Ellen Trainor also star.

7:30 p.m. on 26-ABC on 13-ABC

Married to the Kellys

Money matters are on everyone's mind in the new episode "The Plan," as Susan and Tom (Kiele Sanchez, Breckin Meyer) rethink financial goals. Bill (Sam Anderson) wants to see some money — rent, to be exact — from Lewis (Derek Waters), who promptly moves out after being asked to pony up. And Chris (Josh Braaten) is afraid to tell Mary (Emily Rutherford) that he's lost his job. Lee Majors — television's "Six Million Dollar Man" — guest stars.

8 p.m. on 8-FOX on 25-FOX

Wonderfalls

Series star Caroline Dhavernas maintains that this show differs from "Joan of Arcadia," but some of the other program's elements filter into the new episode "Wound-Up Penguin." Jaye (Dhavernas) tries to help a nun (guest star Carrie Preston) whose faith has been shattered — and who is mystified by Jaye's conversations with inanimate objects.

8 p.m. on 26-ABC on 13-ABC

Hope & Faith

In "The Wedding," Charley's (Ted McGinley) brother is getting married, and Charley is stressing out over the toast he's expected to deliver at the reception. But there are bigger problems developing with this wedding. For one thing, the bride is nowhere to be found after a wild night of partying with Faith (Kelly Ripa).

8 p.m. on 38-WB

Grounded for Life

Claudia (Megyn Price) plagiarizes Lily's (Lynsey Bartilson) paper in the new episode "The Cheat Is On." Unfortunately, she discovers Lily copied from another document. Jimmy (Griffin Frazen) learns some dubious romantic moves from Eddie (Kevin Fitzgerald Corrigan).

8 p.m. on BRAV

Movie: Pollock

In what was evidently a labor of love, Ed Harris directs and stars in this warts-and-all chronicle of the life and career of abstract impressionist Jackson Pollock, who was tortured by the twin demons of booze and insecurity. He gained welcome, if temporary, respite from artist Lee Krasner (Marcia Gay Harden), who essentially put her own career on hold to be Pollock's wife, champion and caregiver.

8:30 p.m. on 26-ABC on 13-ABC

Life With Bonnie

One of comedy's most revered veterans, Jonathan Winters, reprises his earlier guest role as a multiple-personality author in the new episode "Don't Stress, Express." He returns to Bonnie's (Bonnie Hunt) morning show and definitely stirs things up. David (David Alan Grier) continues to wear out his welcome in the Molloy household by staging a meeting of his anger-management group there.

8:30 p.m. on 38-WB

The Help

The Ridgways go AWOL after rats turn up in the mansion, prompting the employees to live it up, in the new episode "Pahtay." The fun lasts only so long, though, since the workers' joy is out short by Mrs. Ridgeway's (Brenda Strong) no-nonsense assistant (Kennedy, the former MTV personality). She quickly puts everyone in their proper place.

9:15 p.m. on TBS

Movie: Boyz n the Hood

Young Tre (Cuba Gooding Jr.) is fortunate enough to have a father (Laurence Fishburne) committed to keeping him out of trouble and off the streets. But Tre can't completely stay away from gang violence, especially when one of his buddies (Ice Cube) comes dangerously close to the edge with drugs, booze and guns. The boys must learn to survive on their own terms. Angela Bassett also stars in this powerful 1991 coming-of-age drama from director John Singleton.

Figure Skating

The World Figure Skating Championships conclude in Dortmund, Germany, with the ladies free program. The United States will be well represented, as always, by the grace and elegance of Michelle Kwan, who will try to defend her title and win her sixth world championship overall. Others to watch for include Sasha Cohen, who finished fourth last year, European champion Julia Sebestyen of Hungary, and Russia's Irina Slutskaya, the 2002 world champion.

7 p.m. on 6-NBC

Movie: A Knight's Tale

Medieval adventure gets a rock music beat — quite literally — in this 2001 adventure movie from Oscar-winning "L.A. Confidential" screenwriter Brian Koppelman. Heath Ledger ("The Patriot," "The Order") plays a peasant who poses as a nobleman and finds a determined jousting opponent in a count (Rufus Sewell). Mark Addy ("Still Standing") and Shannyn Sossamon ("40 Days and 40 Nights") also star.

7:30 p.m. on 8-FOX on 25-FOX

Cops

Saturday night's all right for fighting in this "Coast to Coast" edition of the long-running reality series. One set of officers is dispatched to investigate a fight at a gas station. In another incident, a pair of women are detained after getting into a scuffle at a convenience store.

8 p.m. on 4-CBS

Price Is Right Million Dollar Spectacular

The popular daytime game show again pays a visit to prime time. In this special edition, those lucky enough to "come on down" and play the various guess-the-price games also get a shot at $1 million by spinning the prize wheel. Bob Barker hosts.

9 p.m. on HBO

Boxing

Rising contender Jermain Taylor hopes you can go home again — in this case Little Rock, Ark. — when he takes on Alex Bunema in a scheduled 10-round middleweight bout. Taylor (19-0, 14 KOs) faces the more experienced Bunema (24-3-2, 12 KOs), who hails from Zaire. In the co-feature, Dominick Guinn, who also is from Arkansas, seeks to keep his perfect record intact in a scheduled 10-round heavyweight bout against Monte Barrett.

(Ratings for each film begin with a "star" rating - one star meaning "poor," four meaning "excellent" - followed by the Motion Picture Association of America rating, and then by a family-viewing guide, the key for which appears below.)

STARTING THIS WEEK (New releases):

"THE RUNDOWN": Despite the success of his earlier screen turns as the Scorpion King, The Rock finds an even better fit in this entertaining adventure directed by actor Peter Berg ("Chicago Hope"). The wrestling veteran plays a likable bounty hunter dispatched to find his boss' son (Seann William Scott, "American Pie"), a treasure seeker whose fortune hunt leads to the Amazon. A villain (Christopher Walken) is on the same quest, posing big problems for the good guys. Rosario Dawson also stars. DVD extras: "making-of" documentaries; deleted scenes.  (PG-13: AS, P, V)

"GOTHIKA": Fate cruelly twists for a psychologist, played with conviction by Halle Berry, in this familiar-feeling melodrama. Accused of murdering her husband (Charles S. Dutton), she suddenly finds herself a patient in the mental institution where she has treated others. She struggles to convince one of her co-workers (Robert Downey Jr.) that she didn't commit the crime. Penelope Cruz has a flashy supporting role as a supposedly insane woman. DVD extras: audio commentary by director Mathieu Kassovitz; "Behind Blue Eyes" music video.  (R: AS, N, P, V)

Video Vantage

HONEY: A would-be choreographer (the very watchable Jessica Alba; "Dark Angel") has to determine how far she'll go on the personal front to attain her professional one in this involving, fast-paced drama. A video director (David Moscow, "Big") is willing to help her - but for a price she doesn't want to pay. Her true love (Mekhi Phifer, "ER") helps her stay honest. Also in the cast are Lil' Romeo, Joy Bryant, Lonette McKee and Missy Elliott. DVD extras: "making-of" documentary; deleted scenes; outtakes; music video; dance-lesson featurette.  (PG-13: AS, P)

"SHATTERED GLASS": Cited on a number of "best of" lists for 2003, this engrossing and true drama proved fortuitous in its release, given then-current scandals in journalism. The film is about another one, a magazine article fabricated by writer Stephen Glass (played by recent "Star Wars" Jedi Hayden Christensen). While others line up to support or oppose him as the piece's veracity is questioned, Glass tries to cover his tracks. Chloe Sevigny, Peter Sarsgaard, Steve Zahn, Hank Azaria and Rosario Dawson also are in the solid cast. DVD extras: audio commentary by writer-director Billy Ray and former magazine editor Chuck Lane; "60 Minutes" interview with the real Stephen Glass.  (PG-13: AS, P)

"BEYOND BORDERS": A privileged woman (Angelina Jolie) has her sensibilities awakened to the daily strife faced in other countries in this grim yet romantic drama from director Martin Campbell ("The Mask of Zorro"). A fiercely dedicated doctor (Clive Owen) inspires the industrialist's wife to involve herself in the plights of those residing in sites such as Ethiopia and Cambodia. Teri Polo ("Meet the Parents") and Linus Roache co-star. Players changed drastically, since Oliver Stone originally was set to direct, with Kevin Costner and Catherine Zeta-Jones starring. DVD extras: audio commentary by Campbell and producer Lloyd Phillips; making-of documentaries; "Angelina: Goodwill Ambassador" featurette.  (R: AS, P, V)

"THE SINGING DETECTIVE": The much-praised British miniseries yields an effective feature-film version from the production company run by Mel Gibson. He appears in the movie, but the real star is his earlier "Air America" cohort Robert Downey Jr., playing a hospitalized author who lives a much different life in his imagination. There, he's a musically inclined private eye probing a prostitute's murder in a film-noirish world. The terrific cast also includes Robin Wright Penn, Katie Holmes, Adrien Brody ("The Pianist") and Carla Gugino ("Karen Sisco"). DVD extra: "Anatomy of a Scene" featurette.  (R: AS, P, V)

COMING SOON (Upcoming releases):

"BROTHER BEAR" (March 30): A man is magically transformed into the bear he blames for his brother's death in this animated Disney feature; voices include Joaquin Phoenix and Rick Moranis. (G)

"HOUSE OF SAND AND FOG" (March 30): After being evicted from her home, a recovering alcoholic (Jennifer Connelly) causes problems for the new owner (Ben Kingsley). (R: AS, P, V)

"SOMETHING'S GOTTA GIVE" (March 30): Jack Nicholson plays a womanizer who falls for the mother (Diane Keaton) of his latest girlfriend (Amanda Peet). (PG-13: AS, P)

Hairspray more than a musical; it's Gail O'Grady's trademark

By Jacqueline Cutler
© Zap2it

Hair-care products have played a large part in Gail O'Grady's career. Three of her most high-profile roles have seen her sporting high-altitude bouffants.

She portrays Helen Pryor, the mom on NBC's Sunday drama "American Dreams," in a shellacked flip that requires much teasing and spraying. O'Grady also played singer Georgia Lee on "China Beach" and secretary Donna Abandando on "NYPD Blue."

"I always have a bouffant," she says. "My hair falls into a bouffant. That's the way it is. My hair grows like a weed. On days off, I put it in a ponytail and wear it straight."

On days off, O'Grady has been photographed wearing sexy clothes that show off her curvaceous size-4 figure, which she seems to keep by good genes and sheer luck. "I have the most incredible gym," she says. "I have everything, a Pilates Reformer ... and it's all mirrored in there. It's a great gym. It's a nice place to hang a towel."

O'Grady, 41, concedes she has used the gym, but she will not succumb to the Hollywood pressure of starving herself. "In order for me to look like a Hollywood body, I have to be emaciated," she says. "I am not happy that way, and I don't think it's the prettiest look." When "American Dreams" started, O'Grady lost a few pounds and the show runner told her if she grew too thin, he would not write for her.

"To me, it is this vicious circle," O'Grady says. "When somebody is too thin, they rip them to shreds. And then, when they gain weight, they crucify them. It sends a real mixed message."

"I haven't done anything in months," she says of exercise. A good part of that could be because O'Grady is expecting her first child, a son, in June. In an initial long telephone interview, during which she spoke of her childhood, acting, her house, dogs and "American Dreams," she never mentions her pregnancy. In a follow-up interview, she says, "My focus right now is to raise a happy, healthy baby."

She is not revealing the father's identity, and asks that people respect her privacy. Single, she remains friends with her three ex-husbands. Given that O'Grady has only gained seven pounds in seven months, it was not difficult to keep her pregnancy out of "American Dreams."

Set in the 1960s, the show traces the Pryor family, dealing with the issues of the time - the Vietnam War, race relations, teen rebellion and women beginning to define themselves outside of the house, all set to a terrific sound track of rock and roll.

O'Grady's character is in a longtime marriage to Jack (Tom Verica), and is the mother of four. Eldest son JJ (Will Estes) is on the front lines in Vietnam. Older daughter Meg (Brittany Snow) dances on "American Bandstand" and rebels against her father's rules. Younger daughter Patty (Sarah Ramos) is intent on tattling, and the youngest, Will (Ethan Dampf), was more defined by his polio but after a risky operation, he is finally without braces.

"I am so proud of it," O'Grady says of the show. "Tom Verica and I talk about how lucky we are to be working on something that you are proud to talk about and look forward to coming to work. When we do read-throughs once a week, we are so involved in what is happening to this family."

"When we walked on the set, the drawers were stocked with period items in them," O'Grady says. "In the kitchen, there are different pieces I remember growing up with, that my mother had. There isn't anything in that kitchen that is current. In the bedroom, on the vanity table, the makeup is old and crumbling, the original makeup."

This attention to detail is among the wonderful aspects of this rare drama, which can be watched with children. O'Grady has grown close to the children on the set, and to her on-screen husband, Verica, with whom she plays practical jokes.

In one scene, Jack was unloading groceries Helen just bought. During rehearsals, all went fine. Then O'Grady had the crew put 20-pound weights in the bags just before the taping.

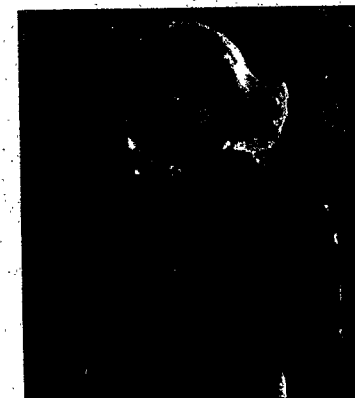

"Here I am struggling," Verica says, "and I am supposed to be this macho Jack Pryor. We do stuff like that."

"She's a pain in the ass," Verica says lovingly. "She is terrific. She really is incredibly talented. To me, she is a throwback, especially to the classic actresses of the '40s and '50s, a classic beauty and that really comes across."

O'Grady resembles Kim Novak, Grace Kelly and other blond beauties who look as if they were born to wear tiaras. Incidentally, O'Grady has always proudly worn one. She started as a kid, and simply hasn't stopped. "People over the years have given them to me as a joke," she says. "You can't have too many."

Long before O'Grady knew what acting was, she was doing it as a child in Wheaton, Ill. "I used to play whatever I saw at the movies or on television for as long as I can remember," she says. She debuted on stage in ballet and oboe recitals as a girl, but there was a break during her teen years because O'Grady never made the high-school plays.

Gail O'Grady plays Helen Pryor in NBC's "American Dreams" Sundays. "Helen is a woman conditioned in the '40s and '50s and got married so young, in essence she's growing up with the kids," O'Grady says.

My new Oreck XL® for 2004. It's a better way to have a healthier home. Now you can clean the air as you vacuum your floors!

BREATHE EASIER KNOWING IT'S A NEW ORECK XL.

Hi, I'm David Oreck. It's common knowledge that household dust carries germs, pollen, dander, mold spores, bacteria — things you don't want your family breathing in. That's why for more than four decades I've been on a mission to create a superior vacuum cleaner. I'm confident my new 8-lb. Oreck XL is the new industry standard. Because in performance, ease of use, reliability, durability and value for your money, it stands alone. Add in a 50% improvement in air filtration and you've easily got one of the most advanced vacuum cleaners money can buy. It picks up everything in one sweep, from pet dander to dust mites, and then traps 99.99% of all harmful allergens down to 0.3 microns. That's 1/250th the width of a human hair. (Bacteria measures 0.4 to 10 microns. Mold spores are 10 to 100 microns.) So you're not only cleaning your carpets and bare floors, you're creating a healthier environment. Plus, there's never a cloud of dust in your face, or foul odor with an 8-lb. Oreck XL!

TRY IT FREE FOR 30 DAYS. THE SHIPPING IS FREE (A $29.95 VALUE) AND MY $130 MIXER IS YOUR FREE GIFT.

I'm so sure that my new 8-lb. Oreck XL Celoc® Hypo-Allergenic Plus upright will get your home cleaner than it has ever been before, that I'll send it to you to use for a month, absolutely risk free. NO PURCHASE NECESSARY 1. HOW TO ENTER: Complete the official entry form in the March 21, 2004 Valassis coupon insert found in the Sunday edition of your participating newspaper(s) or print your name, age, address, home phone number, an alternate phone number where you can be reached (if applicable), and the name of the newspaper you received your entry form from (if applicable) on a plain piece of 3" x 5" paper and mail in an envelope with sufficient postage affixed to: "Family Vacation" Sweepstakes, P.O. Box 530549, Livonia, MI, 48153-0549. Entries must be postmarked by April 20, 2004 and received by April 27, 2004. Limit one entry per household. Not responsible for lost, late, misdirected, incomplete, illegible or postage due entries. 2. RANDOM DRAWING: Winner will be randomly drawn on or about May 5, 2004 from among all valid entries received by an independent judging organization, whose decisions are final. Winner will be notified by mail and/or phone at Sponsor's discretion. Odds of winning depend on the number of valid entries received. 3. (1) Grand Prize: $2,000.00. Prize will be awarded in the form of a check. 4. ELIGIBILITY: Open to legal U.S. residents who are 18 years of age by March 21, 2004, except for employees and families of Valassis and their subsidiaries, affiliates and advertising and promotional agencies. Void where prohibited. Subject to all federal, state and local laws and regulations. 5. GENERAL: Prize is not transferable prior to awarding. Prize winner will be required to complete and return a notarized affidavit of eligibility/liability release form and, where legally permitted, a publicity release within 10 days of first notification attempt. Non-compliance will result in forfeiture of prize and an alternate winner may be selected. If prize notification or prize delivery is returned as non-deliverable, prize may be forfeited and an alternate winner may be selected. No correspondence will be acknowledged. Taxes are the sole responsibility of the winner. All federal, state, and local laws and regulations apply. All materials submitted become the sole property of Sponsor and will not be returned. Neither Sponsor, its subsidiaries, affiliates, advertising, promotion agencies nor their employees will have any liability whatsoever for any injuries, losses or damages of any kind caused by any prize or resulting from acceptance, possession or use of any prize. Acceptance of a prize shall be construed as and signify the winner's agreement and consent that Sponsor may use the winner's name, address, likeness and/or prize information, without limitation, for promotional purposes without further consideration or payment, where allowed by law. By accepting prize, winner agrees to hold harmless Sponsor, its directors, officers, employees and assigns against any and all claims and liability arising out of use of prize. Winner assumes all liability for any injury or damage caused, or claimed to be caused, by participation in this promotion or use or redemption of prize. 6. For name of winner, send self-addressed, stamped envelope by July 23, 2004 to: "Family Vacation" Sweepstakes - Winner's List, 19975 Victor Parkway, Livonia, MI 48152. Winner's list available after May 21, 2004. 7. This promotion is sponsored by Valassis, 19975 Victor Parkway, Livonia, MI 48152.

Angel of Mercy

Only 14.95

Shown slightly larger than actual size of 3 3/4" high

Inspired by the Art of Rose O'Neill

When you appreciate the artistry of a woman with the "Art of Memory" and the charm of a nurse, you'll understand the art of Rose O'Neill. With her unique style and stitches open in hand, the "Angel of Mercy" is a sweetheart reported to heal with an angel's special touch.

Wide-eyed, chubby, and minutely detailed, this angelic style of teddy bears have always had an enduring place in our hearts. This adorable nurse, exclusively from Hamilton, will remind you of memories of a nostalgic American classic!

Celebrate the dedication of America's nurses with this irresistible "Angel of Mercy." Reply today!

"SUNRISE CASCADE"

As the sun rises, two bald eagles leave their nest to survey the peaks. The rush of wind from their wings joins the roar of cascading snowmelt ... and nature plays a symphony. This wondrous encounter, is now portrayed in a sculpture of remarkable craftsmanship—and rare distinction. Hand-crafted eagles on shimmering "vapor trails" combine with a stunning landscape to create a dynamic perspective, which is even more dramatic in the "bird's eye view" portrait of crystalline (a unique combination of resins) that reveals the eagles' domain.

Such a distinctive limited edition has sparked very strong demand, and extensive hand-crafting will limit supply. Act now to acquire it at the $39.95 issue price. You need send no money now. Just mail the coupon.
